Action from the First Division fixture between today's opponents at Turf Moor on 12 March 1923.

Billy Jennings opened the scoring for Wanderers after just four minutes, but goals either side of half time by Billy Nesbitt and Joe Anderson gave the Clarets a 2-1 victory. We believe that the Burnley player is Bob Kelly and the Bolton players are Vince Matthews (left) and Alex Finney.

Editor's welcome

Around seven weeks ago, an e-mail arrived to inform Burnley Football Club that today's fixture had been chosen as a select group of games to launch the Football League's 125th anniversary. The immediate feeling was one of pride. And virtually since that day it has been all hands on deck at Turf Moor to make sure the televised game versus fellow founding members Bolton Wanderers is worthy of the celebrating the Football League milestone. A timetable of today's events appears in the news pages of today's Claret & You. And this first edition of the new-look matchday magazine includes several nods to the anniversary, including a major feature by club historian Ray Simpson. Elsewhere, we have a full interview with new signing David Jones and a new lifestyle feature each week with a squad player. And if you feel there's any way we can improve Claret & You, we'd love to hear from you at programme@burnleyfc.com

UNITY IS OUR STRENGTH.

Clarets boss Sean Dyche welcomes in the new season.

Good afternoon everyone and welcome to Turf Moor for today's opening game of the new Sky Bet Championship season.

It's a great honour for the club to be chosen as one of the six games to celebrate the Football League's 125th anniversary.

And with Sky television covering the game, it certainly makes the watching world well aware of the glorious history this club possesses.

The very fact that Turf Moor is one of only three grounds in the country still in use today from that first season 125 years ago is a testament to everybody connected with the club throughout the years.

Fast forwarding to present day, our aim is to write a new piece of history and that starts today.

The Championship is imbalanced in terms of finance, with some clubs backed by wealthy owners and consortiums from across the globe. But we remain a club that is at the heart of the people and can and will be competitive regardless of the varying challenges!

Our pre-season went well. The main objective, as always, is to fine tune the players so they are in great shape to handle the trials and tribulations that lie ahead. In that respect we've had a few minor injury setbacks, but nothing that should affect us in the long term.

Carrying a tight-knit squad, that is crucially important to us and thankfully those bumps and bruises are nothing more. We have also worked hard to add to the squad in the summer and it's my pleasure to formally welcome the latest acquisition, midfielder David Jones.

David was a target from the moment I knew he was available and we look forward to working with him more after he joined us in pre-season.

Results have been good through pre-season and my staff and I have been delighted with the players' attitudes and performances in the friendlies

The trip to Cork provided a real highlight, with many Burnley fans making the trip to “Unity is one of our strengths, so please give the lads your constant encouragement.”

Ireland. I know from speaking to many of them how much they enjoyed that and it was a feeling reciprocated by the people of Cork, who had only good things to say about Burnley.

And of course we wrapped up our preparations last week her against Sparta Rotterdam, who brought a small, if noisy contingent of fans to add to another enjoyable occasion.

And so, we begin for real.

I'd like to welcome Dougie Freedman and all the staff, players and supporters who have made the short trip to Bolton.

A red-blooded Lancashire derby is just about the ideal way to get things underway - but they are only enjoyable if you come out on top!

That is our aim and we need you with us all the way.

It's something I have mentioned before: the best way to succeed is to do it together!

From the top in the Boardroom through the staff, players and fans, we can achieve, when we all pull in the same direction.

Unity is one of our strengths, so please give the lads your constant encouragement and I know they will reward you.

In closing, thank you for your continued support and enjoy the occasion.

Sean

HIT THE GROUND RUNNING.

Skipper Jason Shackell believes the Clarets are in great shape for the big kick off.

Hello everyone and welcome back the Turf for the first game of a new season.

I think it's fair to say everyone is looking forward to getting down to the real hard work after a successful pre-season.

Expectations among the supporters will always be high and it's no different in the dressing room, I can assure you.

But the great thing is the lads all came back in great shape from the summer break and I think we've hit the ground running.

Training has been enjoyable - except maybe for that one gruelling day in Cork when the footballs stayed in the bag!

But we had already been warned we were 'in for it' that day, so at least that steeled us for what was to come.

It's all fitness in the tank though and I think anyone who has seen us in pre-season will agree we look fit and ready to go.

The new boys have all settled in well too, but that was made easier for them by a welcoming set of lads who understand that players come and players go all the time.

And I know I speak on behalf of all the supporters and the squad in wishing all the new arrivals well.

“Expectations among the supporters will always be high and it’s no different in the dressing room”

The goals have been spread around in pre-season too, which bodes well because we all know we have to chip in.

But I have no doubt the strikers will do the business for us again.

Enough has been said about Charlie but Danny, in particular, has been in superb form in pre-season, scoring in four successive games and always looking a threat.

And we all know about Sam’s quality and I am sure Ryan Noble will prove to be a valuable attacking asset.

Then, of course, there’s your contribution.

I know it can sound like a cliché, but the supporters have such a huge role to play again this season.

There will inevitably be spells in games when we don’t play as well as we’d all want to, but those are the times we really need everybody.

Finally, it’s a real quirk of fate that we host Bolton again today in the opening game, just as we did 12 months ago.

But we can take great heart from that performance and if you can create a similar atmosphere today, then everything is set for a cracking occasion.

Get behind the lads

Co-Chairman John Banaskiewicz looks forward to another eventful season.

THE INGREDIENTS FOR SUCCESS.

Good afternoon and a very special welcome back to Turf Moor, for the first game of the season and the first since the ground was brought back under the control of Burnley Football Club.

It seems only yesterday since our last game of the season against Ipswich Town and a solid 2-0 win which left us in 11th place, just seven points adrift of the play-offs.

Of course, we want to do better this season and really go for it and now we have some of the structure in place to support us.

Summer is usually the time for a slowdown, but these days football is a business which just keeps rolling.

While the transfer markets have been a little quieter this summer than previously due to the Financial Fair Play rules, things have been busy behind the scenes at Burnley.

The bulk of the squad has been retained and we have added new faces. And it's a pleasure to welcome into the Burnley family on behalf of the Board of Directors goalkeepers Tom Heaton, Alex Cisak, Nick Liversedge and Daniel Nizic, along with outfield trio Scott Arfield, Ryan Noble and this week's recruit, David Jones.

The other main event of the summer, as I alluded to above, was the successful conclusion of an innovative deal whereby Burnley has been able to buy back Turf Moor and the Gawthorpe training ground.

The buy-back will save us a substantial amount of rent over the next seven years and now we can really say that it's 'Our Town and Our Turf'!

On the field, the club's pre-season preparations also went very well. We added a little international flavour to the warm-up with a trip to Cork and over 200 Clarets made the journey. Thanks as always for your support.

In Ireland, the team went through a gruelling training programme at Fota Island (where West Ham and West Bromwich Albion also prepared) and we finished up with a friendly at the Turf against Sparta Rotterdam. That game was the first time a foreign club had visited Burnley since Malaga in 2005 and I know the players and their fans enjoyed the local hospitality.

And so to the business of the day – a repeat of our first fixture last season where we enjoyed an excellent 2-0 win over Bolton Wanderers in one of our best performances.

This remains still a very tight division – just 17 points separated play-off places from relegation last season – but I am very confident we can do well today.

The team looks fit and sharp and are bonding brilliantly. I think we have created the ingredients for success this season.

On behalf of myself, co-Chairman Mike Garlick and the Board of Directors, I would like to wish everyone a great season.

Here's to starting our campaign with a Burnley boost!

Up the Clarets!

John

As we celebrate the 125th anniversary of the Football League, Burnley Football Club is privileged to host the first Championship fixture of the new season, against Bolton Wanderers in front of the Sky cameras.

It is a meeting between two of the 'original twelve', the founder members of the Football League, with a history that dates back to the opening few weeks of the world's first league football competition.

The beginning of the Football League...

...The idea of a 'Football League' was first mooted by a Scotsman, William McGregor, who ran a drapery shop in Birmingham after moving south from Perthshire. McGregor was a keen football watcher and as his shop was quite close to Aston Park, then the home of Aston Villa, Villa became his team.

He was invited to join the Villa committee in 1877, soon becoming the club's administrator, and by 1888 he was a club director.

Along with other directors, both at his own club and at many others, McGregor became more and more frustrated at the constant disruption to fixtures, mostly friendlies of course in those days. Scheduled matches could be cancelled at will if the weather was poor or if transport presented a problem or if key players were injured or unavailable. Fixture cards became meaningless as games were quite often called off on the morning of the match itself and spectators would turn up at deserted grounds. Clubs with wages to pay sometimes found themselves without games, or income, for weeks on end.

After football had become professional in 1885, the administration of the game also needed to be more professional and William McGregor began to see a way forward.

On 2 March 1888, McGregor sent his now famous letter to four of the most prominent clubs of the day, Blackburn Rovers, Bolton Wanderers, Preston North End and West Bromwich Albion, as well as to his own club, Aston Villa...

2 March 1888

"Every year it is becoming more and more difficult for football clubs of any standing to meet their friendly engagements and even arrange friendly matches. The consequence is that at the last moment, through cup-tie interference, clubs are compelled to take on teams who will not attract the public.

"I beg to tender the following suggestion as a means of getting over the difficulty: that ten or twelve of the most prominent clubs in England combine to arrange home-and-away fixtures each season, the said fixtures to be arranged at a friendly conference about the same time as the International Conference. "This combination might be known as the Association Football Union, and could be managed by representative from each club. Of course, this is in no way to interfere with the National Association; even the suggested matches might be played under cup-tie rules. However, this is a detail. "My object in writing to you at present is merely to draw your attention to the subject, and to suggest a friendly conference to discuss the matter more fully. I would take it as a favour if you would kindly think the matter over, and make whatever suggestions you deem necessary. "I am only writing to the following - Blackburn Rovers, Bolton Wanderers, Preston North End, West Bromwich Albion, and Aston Villa, and would like to hear what other clubs you would suggest."

① North End. ② Aston Villa ③ Wolverhampton Wanderers ④ Bolton Wanderers ⑤ Bolton Wanderers ⑥ West Brom. ⑦ Accrington ⑧ Everton
 ⑨ Burnley ⑩ Derby City ⑪ Notts City ⑫ Stoke.

On Friday, 23 March, 1888 at Anderton's Hotel in Fleet Street, London, seven clubs were officially recorded as being represented at the meeting: Aston Villa, Blackburn Rovers, Burnley, Notts County, Stoke, West Bromwich Albion and Wolverhampton Wanderers. Nevertheless at the meeting a number of proposals were framed, including the selected twelve clubs who would form "a League or Union".

These were the seven in attendance plus Accrington, Bolton Wanderers, Derby County, Everton and Preston North End.

No consideration was given to any amateur clubs, nor, as there was no professional football south of Birmingham, any southern clubs.

All twelve proposed founder member clubs were represented at the next meeting a month later, when it was decided that the original title of "Association Football Union" suggested by William McGregor, would be too easily confused with the Rugby Football Union. A vote was taken and the name by which it has been known so distinctly throughout its history, was subsequently adopted - "The Football League".

Its creator, William McGregor was elected as the infant body's first president.

In June 1888 at another meeting in Manchester, the fixture dates for the first Football league season were debated and agreed. The scheduled fixtures would run from early September to early February, with the rest of February and March left open for FA Cup ties.

The scene was now set for the very fabric of professional football to be changed forever and the clubs who would make football history began to prepare for the new campaign.

However during the first week of September 1888, the week leading up to the first set of League fixtures, something other than football was the chief topic of conversation throughout the length and breadth of England.

In the early morning of Friday, 31 August, 1888 the body of a woman was found in Whitechapel, a then notorious part of London where violent deaths were not uncommon.

This particularly gruesome death however would go down in history as the first of a number of killings by a murderer whose true identity is still speculated upon today.

He became infamously known as "Jack the Ripper".

The public were still coming to terms with this shocking story when news broke of a second murder which actually took place on the very day of the launch of League football.

Only Burnley and Preston NE are still playing at the same stadiums 125 years after the start of the Football League. Throughout English senior football, only Preston (since 1881) have played at their current ground longer than Burnley (since 1883).

'Turfites and Trotters'

Both league fixtures between the 'Turfites' and the 'Trotters' in the historic 1888-89 campaign took place within the first month of the season.

Burnley travelled to play Bolton at Pike's Lane on Saturday, 15 September 1888, the second weekend of league football. The game would turn out to be a classic encounter and, not for the last time, a team representing Burnley Football Club would create football history.

Both teams had suffered heavy defeats in their opening Football League outings, with Wanderers losing 3-6 at home to Derby County and Burnley losing 2-5 at Deepdale to Preston North End, the "Invincibles", who remained unbeaten throughout that inaugural season and went on to clinch the very first Football League Championship.

At Pike's Lane Wanderers took the lead after just five minutes when James Brogan crashed the ball past Burnley keeper William Smith. On 30 minutes Bolton doubled their lead when James Davenport found the Turfites' net and it was 3-0 when Coupar rifled in a shot. At this stage Burnley looked a beaten side, although just before the interval, William Tait scored what looked like merely a consolation goal, but on 54 minutes the Turfites pulled another goal back when Fred Poland found the Wanderers net.

It was now 3-2 and very much game on. Ten minutes later, from a Burnley corner, there was an almighty scramble in the Bolton goalmouth, the ball ended up in the net, and it was 3-3, with the visiting players congratulating Tait after his second goal of the game.

Play was now end to end, when, on 75 minutes, the ball broke to Tait and the Burnley inside right sped forward before crashing his shot past the despairing dive of Bolton keeper

Charlie Harrison.

The Turfites' were jubilant and held firm to record a famous victory. It was Burnley Football Club's first win in league football, with William Tait's treble making history as the very first hat-trick in the Football League.

Incredibly Bolton seemed determined to write a page of their own football history. Their capitulation to Burnley was the second time in a week that they had squandered a three-goal lead. They had also been 3-0 in front against Derby the week before and had gone down 3-6.

Alec Brady

Scotsman Alec Brady joined Burnley in the summer of 1888 and scored against Bolton in the first-ever Football League match played at Turf Moor in October that year.

'Turfites and Trotters'

Burnley and Bolton met again in the return fixture three weeks after their first epic encounter, on Saturday, 6 October 1888.

Both teams had just one league win under their belts in four league outings.

Burnley's opening four fixtures had all been arranged to be away from home following a gentlemen's agreement with Burnley Cricket Club, who of course played, and still play, at the 'other' Turf Moor.

Burnley's home fixture with Bolton was therefore another history-making occasion; the very first Football League match to take place at Turf Moor. And in front of more than 6,000 people and to mark the occasion the Burnley players changed from their usual blue and white shirts to an all-white strip.

After just five minutes the honour of scoring the first-ever league goal at Turf Moor fell to Burnley's centre forward Fred Poland, to thunderous cheers from the home fans.

Twenty minutes later, after almost constant pressure, Burnley's lead was doubled. Winger Jack Yates combined with inside forward Alec Brady and Brady found the net with a dipping drive.

And on 33 minutes it was 3-0 when a long ball out of defence found Poland and he steered it past Harrison for his second goal of the game and his fourth in less than five games.

The second half began with play more even and Bolton creating a number of chances, briefly threatening to turn the tables, as Burnley had done three weeks earlier.

On the hour however it was game over when Poland and Tait worked the ball forward before Tait crashed in the 'Turfites' fourth goal, his own fifth of the season. The Wanderers now had nothing to lose and piled forward but it was not until ten minutes from time that they scored what was to be just a consolation goal through Bob Roberts.

Winger Jack Yates was an automatic choice in Burnley's team during the first-ever Football League season, 1888-89, missing just one match and scoring five goals. Yates went on to become Burnley Football Club's first-ever international player, scoring a hat-trick in his only appearance for England.

COMING OF AGE.

FROM ROCK-SOLID FOUNDATIONS, DAVID JONES IS READY TO RISE.

LEAVING the protective bubble of Manchester United's Carrington training ground for the last time must be a demoralising feeling for most footballers...

...The long driveway that leads to an unknown destination offers plenty of time for reflection on what might have been,

But for David Jones, the road to nowhere was never an option.

The Claret's new signing had already seen the writing on the wall after failing to break through the seemingly endless conveyor belt of Old Trafford talent that produced the likes of Paul Scholes, Ryan Giggs and David Beckham.

"They were all well established and top players, so it was a difficult time to push through, so I just felt it was the right time for me to move on," recalls the midfielder.

Ferguson's £14m signing of Michael Carrick hardly helped matters!

Eight years on though, Jones' decision feels totally justified, with Premier League experience under his belt in a flourishing career that will hopefully see the 28-year-old reach the peak of his powers at Turf Moor.

"I joined United when I was 11 and I was there for 10 years until I was 21. It's an amazing set-up there. They have everything spot-on and it's a huge club," explained Jones, who signed a three-year deal with Burnley earlier this week.

"That was a time in my life when I went on a couple of pre-season tours and out on loan a few times (Preston North End and Dutch side NEC Nijmegen). Then I remember going on United's 2005/06 pre-season tour and playing a few games in the League Cup, but it just didn't seem as though I would be competitive that season and playing in the first team.

"I'd made a couple of appearances for the first team, but it was at the time where I was 21, eager to play and I'd had a taste of first team football on loan, when Derby came in for me."

And as the former England Youth international finally quit the cosseted Old Trafford stable to become a Championship thoroughbred, United's loss was most certainly Derby County's gain.

In his first season, the £1m signing helped the Rams earn promotion to the Premier League – leading Ferguson to reportedly comment that he sold Jones too cheaply!

Fergie ruing one that got away? There's a footballing rarity!

"I doubt that," laughed Jones. "I have so much to thank him and United for. I was involved in the first team there, so you get to see what he is all about.

"He obviously was very well respected and, as a young lad coming through, I really liked him. He was always giving advice, but he would also put you in your place if he felt he needed to!

"It's strange to watch the TV now and see that he's not there any more. He has been there all my life and you associate football with Alex Ferguson, so it's really strange for him not to be managing anymore."

Jones was reunited at Pride Park with manager Billy Davies, who had previously signed him on loan two years earlier.

"I loved my time there playing for Billy and it was a good experience," insisted the Southport-born ace.

"I had already played under him at Preston when he was manager there.

"We enjoyed a promotion season in the first year I was at Derby and then it was a difficult season for us in the Premier League, but I still enjoyed my time there."

A dismal 2007/08 season, which saw Derby finish rock-bottom of the Premier League, did have some bright spots, albeit bitter-sweet ones.

Eleven starts brought a first top flight goal in the 6-1 thrashing at Chelsea, while experience of playing against some of the best players in the world is knowledge banked.

But despite the arrival of new Derby manager Paul Jewell the following season, opportunities remained limited and another door opened; this time one that took him across the Midlands to Wolverhampton Wanderers, where he earned a second promotion in three years in 2009 as a key component in the engine room of Mick McCarthy's resolute Championship side.

Another Premier League goal followed, this time in the defeat of Spurs.

But by the summer of 2011 the sands of time had again run out and after three years at Wolves, Jones was heading back north to link up with Wigan Athletic, where he would make a further 29 top flight starts in two seasons.

And in a quirk of fate, a loan spell at Blackburn at the tail end of last season saw him feature on the cover of the matchday programme... against visitors Burnley!

"I had a lack of consecutive first team games at Wigan," he recalled.

"I wanted to really nail down my position in the centre of midfield. The first season I was there I played in various positions and that carried on into the second season, so I felt that I needed to go out on loan and I was coming to the end of my contract and I just wanted to play games really, so that's what I did.

"Blackburn was, I just felt, a very good option for me at the time. Playing games was the main purpose of me going there and I thought it was a chance for me to get 12 games in before the end of the season.

"It was a competitive time of the season and I enjoyed playing games. But it was just a brief period and I'm happy to move on."

There are even suggestions that Clarets boss Sean Dyche got one over on the old East-Lancashire foes this summer by snatching the free agent from the jaws of a mooted Ewood move.

However, Jones insists the truth is far cloudier.

"There was never a deal on the table, so whether or not further down the line there was going to be I don't know," he said.

"I don't like to hear about things from my representative unless the deal is on the table or there is genuine interest, so when the manager here called me up, I knew he wanted me and that was obviously a big pull for me in terms of getting here as soon as possible.

"I was a free agent and I was listening to various options that were coming available. But after meeting him I was happy to join."

And so to the present, where Jones was greeted by a few familiar faces in the Gawthorpe dressing room in former Wolves colleagues Jason Shackell and Sam Vokes and ex-Manchester United keeper Tom Heaton.

And after a pre-season embedded in the Clarets midfield, the energetic midfielder already feels like a part of the Turf Moor fixtures and fittings.

"I am just delighted to get it done. I've been training here a few weeks now and playing a few games, so I was pleased to finally push it through this week," he said.

"I feel like this is the place for me and I got that right from the start, after speaking to the manager.

I've been made to feel really welcome. I was good mates with Tom at United from a young age, so he was giving me the low-down on everything here.

"A friendly face or two always helps you settle in, but they are all good lads and it's been a really easy transition for me and I'm just eager to get the season underway now.

"I have been very impressed. This seems like a very homely, family-orientated club, so the first impressions were good and now I just want to get playing for Burnley and have a good relationship with the fans.

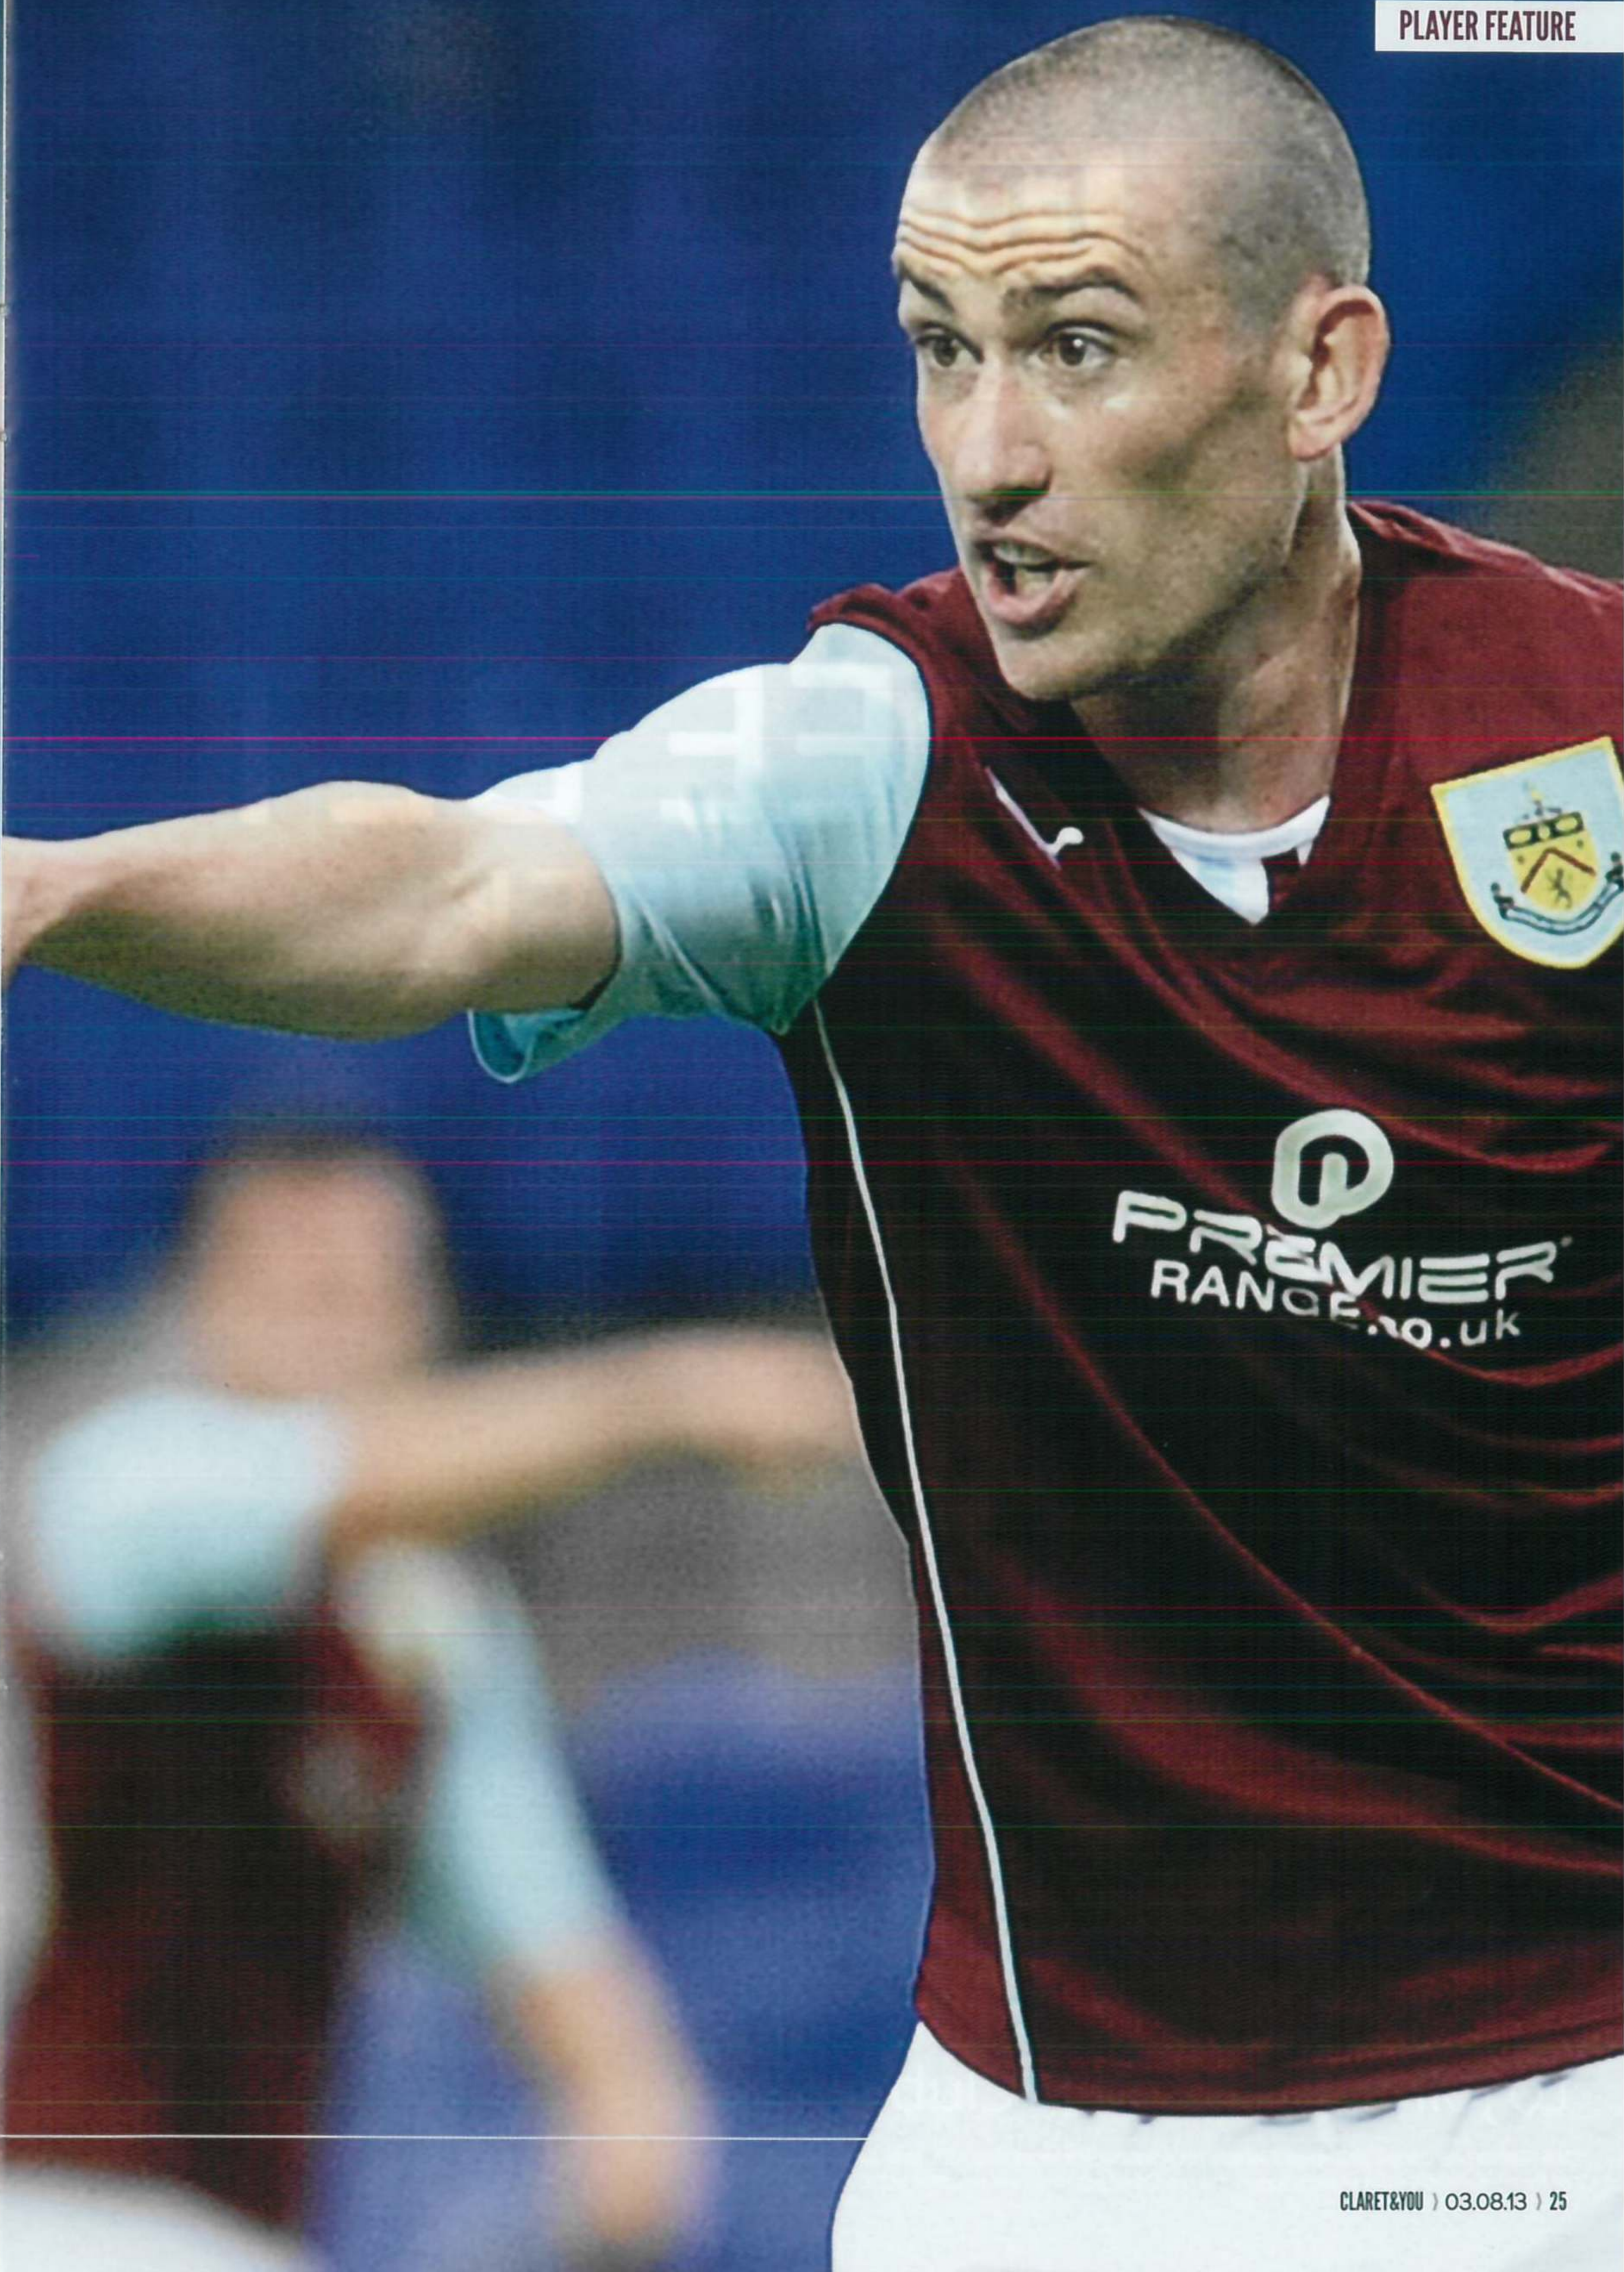

"This is a tough division, so it's hard to predict what will happen. But from my experience in the Championship I think we are looking very fit.

"From when I was at Wolves, this seems like a similar dressing room and has a similar feel to when we got promoted with a good, youthful team.

"I definitely see similarities and hopefully we can have a good start, get some good momentum and do good things in this league.

"Pre-season is not too important in terms of results, but we have done really well and the fitness of the lads has been superb, so I think we are ready now."

Charlie Austin signed off with a brace as the Clarets ended their pre-season preparations with a comfortable Turf Moor victory over Sparta Rotterdam.

The striker gave Burnley fans a final taste of his goalscoring prowess ahead of Thursday's sudden departure to QPR, scoring the Clarets opener and then his last goal in Burnley colours after the Dutch visitors had taken a shock early lead.

And with strike partner Danny Ings again on target - his fifth goal in four games - and Dean Marney adding his second goal of pre-season, the goals flowed in the Turf Moor sunshine.

The Clarets found themselves behind almost immediately as Sparta striker Johan Voskamp, looking suspiciously offside, slotted past Tom Heaton.

However, two minutes later the Clarets were level. Danny Lafferty picked out Austin with a peach of a left wing delivery and the striker rose highest to plant a header into the corner of the goal from eight yards.

Burnley then took control with two goals in as many minutes midway through the half.

From Kieran Trippier's cross, Junior Stanislas and Austin combined to tee-up Marney, who rifled the ball home from six yards.

And in the 24th minute, the Clarets extended their lead with a fine team goal.

Stanislas fed Jones, who in turn released Ings on the left side of the area - and following a quick one-two with Austin on the edge of the box, Ings caressed home his fifth goal of pre-season.

There could have been more goals, but it was left to Austin to round off the scoring in the 72nd minute in typical predatory fashion.

David Jones' spin and shot, following good work from Stanislas, found the striker loitering with intent in the centre of goal, and he dispatched past keeper Khalid Sinouh with a first time shot on the turn.

And only a linesman's flag denied the hitman a hat-trick as Charlie ended his Turf Moor career where it began... among the goals!

"Bolton Wanderers narrowly missed out on the Championship play-offs in May."

Bolton Wanderers narrowly missed out on the Championship play-offs in May, after losing their Premier League status in 2012 after an eleven-year stay in the top flight.

And although the highly-competitive Championship is a wide-open division, leading bookmakers are currently offering a measly 3/1 for the Horwich-based club regaining elite status.

Inconsistency haunted Bolton's 2012-13 season, beginning with an opening day defeat here at an electrically-charged Turf Moor.

Ex-Clarets boss Owen Coyle failed to get the Trotters motivated for an immediate return and left the club in October 2012, with the club struggling.

Indeed, when David Edgar gave Burnley the lead at the Reebok back four months later, in February, they looked set to drop into the relegation zone!

However, a comeback win, with goals from Craig Davies and David Ngog, gave Dougie Freedman's side the impetus to make a spectacular climb towards the play offs.

Indeed, only a last day blip, when they couldn't beat Blackpool, stopped them from taking part in the end of season lottery.

Freedman has been busy in the summer.

Former Leeds and Everton striker Jermaine Beckford has joined from Leicester City, full back Marc Tierney has

+ PREVIOUS MEETING

18th August 2012. Burnley 2 Bolton Wanderers 0.

The Clarets will be hoping for a repeat of last year's opening day win at Turf Moor. A bumper crowd of over 18,000 saw goals from Martin Paterson and Charlie Austin give Burnley a confidence building success over Owen Coyle's Bolton.

Burnley's former boss got a predictably hostile reception before the game, following his decision to quit Turf Moor for the Reebok in January 2010.

Wanderers had been relegated from the top flight and were expected to make an immediate return.

In truth, the Clarets were always on top and a clean sheet for the re-shaped defence, expertly marshalled by new skipper Jason Shackell, was an added bonus.

travelled north from Norwich City, young winger Rob Hall has left West Ham for Bolton and defender Alex Baptiste has joined on a free transfer from Blackpool.

Results in pre-season games can often provide a false gauge as to how the ensuing season will unfold, but Bolton may be concerned with lacklustre defeats at Rotherham and Carlisle, while at Greenhous Meadow, they were held 3-3 by Shrewsbury Town.

A new season awaits though, and Burnley/Bolton games are always a bit special.

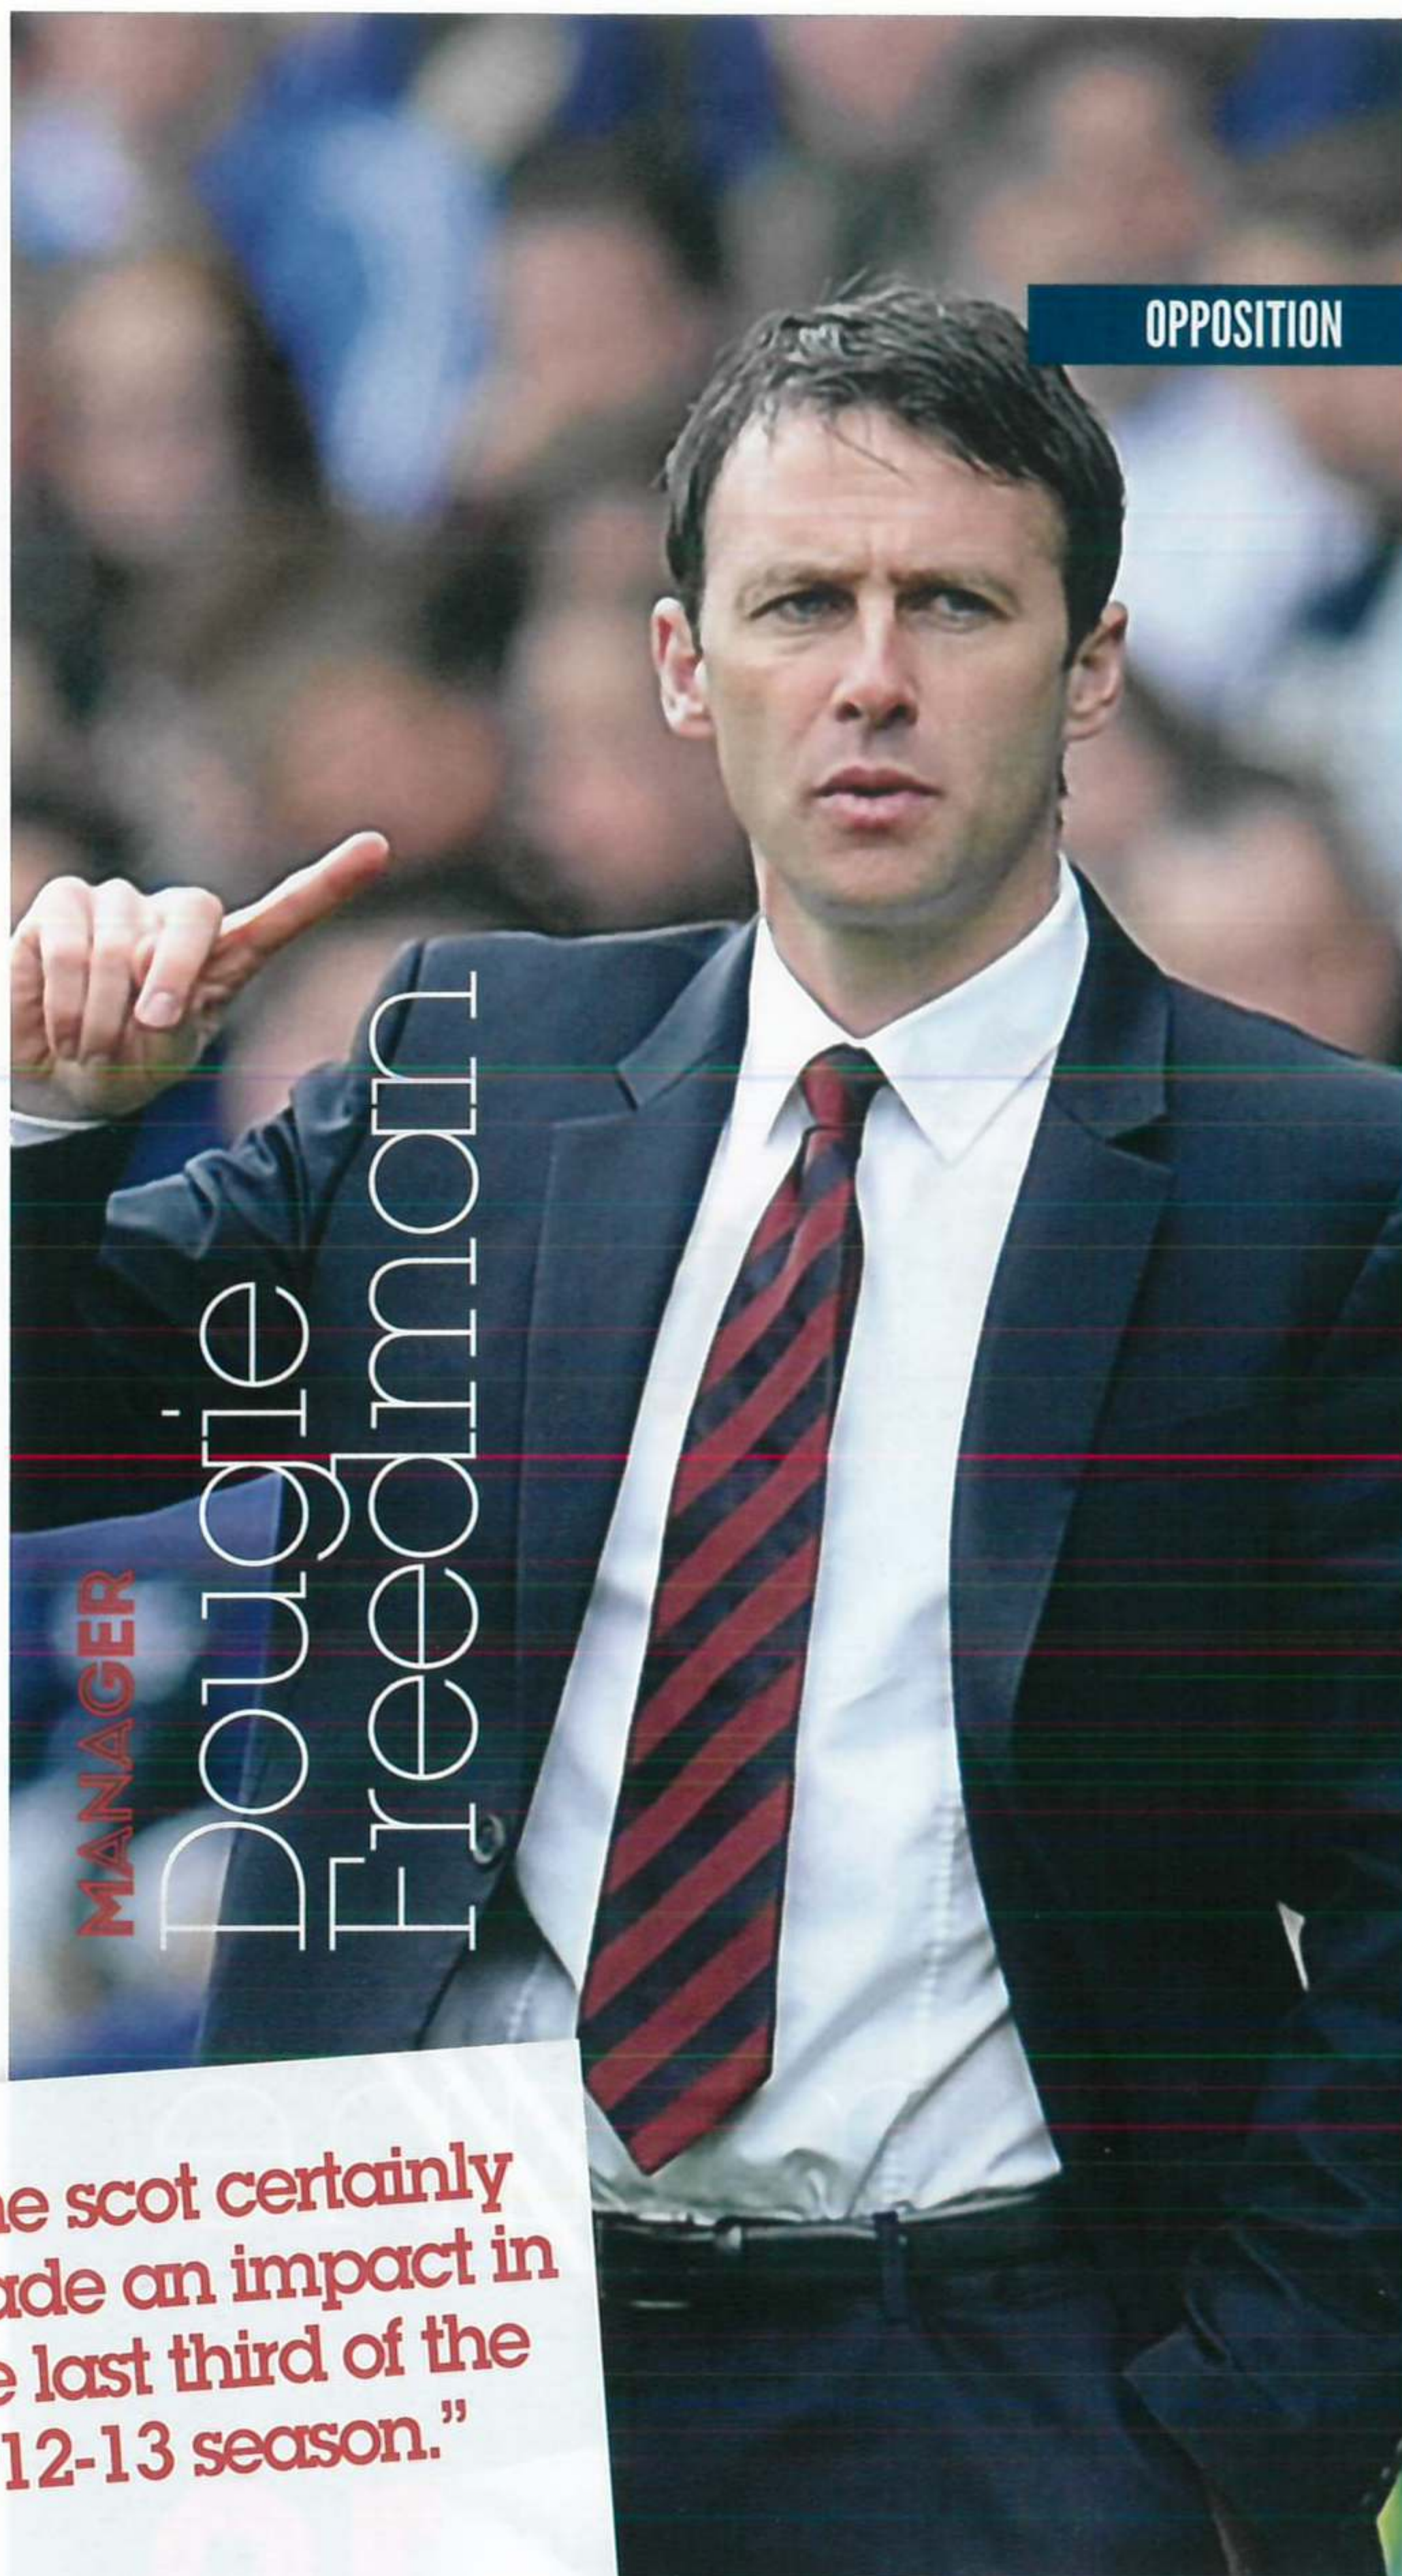

Forget geographical boundaries, this is a real blood-and-thunder Lancashire derby!

And with the game shunted in the schedules to celebrate the Football League's 125 year anniversary, today takes on even more importance.

In addition to Shackell, there were also league debuts for Brian Stock and Joe Mills. Sam Vokes also returned to the club after a spell on loan the previous season.

Having already won at Port Vale in the Capital One Cup, Eddie Howe's side had made a fantastic start to their 2012-13 campaign.

Unfortunately, Paterson picked up a hamstring injury forcing him out of the next couple of games

"The scot certainly made an impact in the last third of the 2012-13 season."

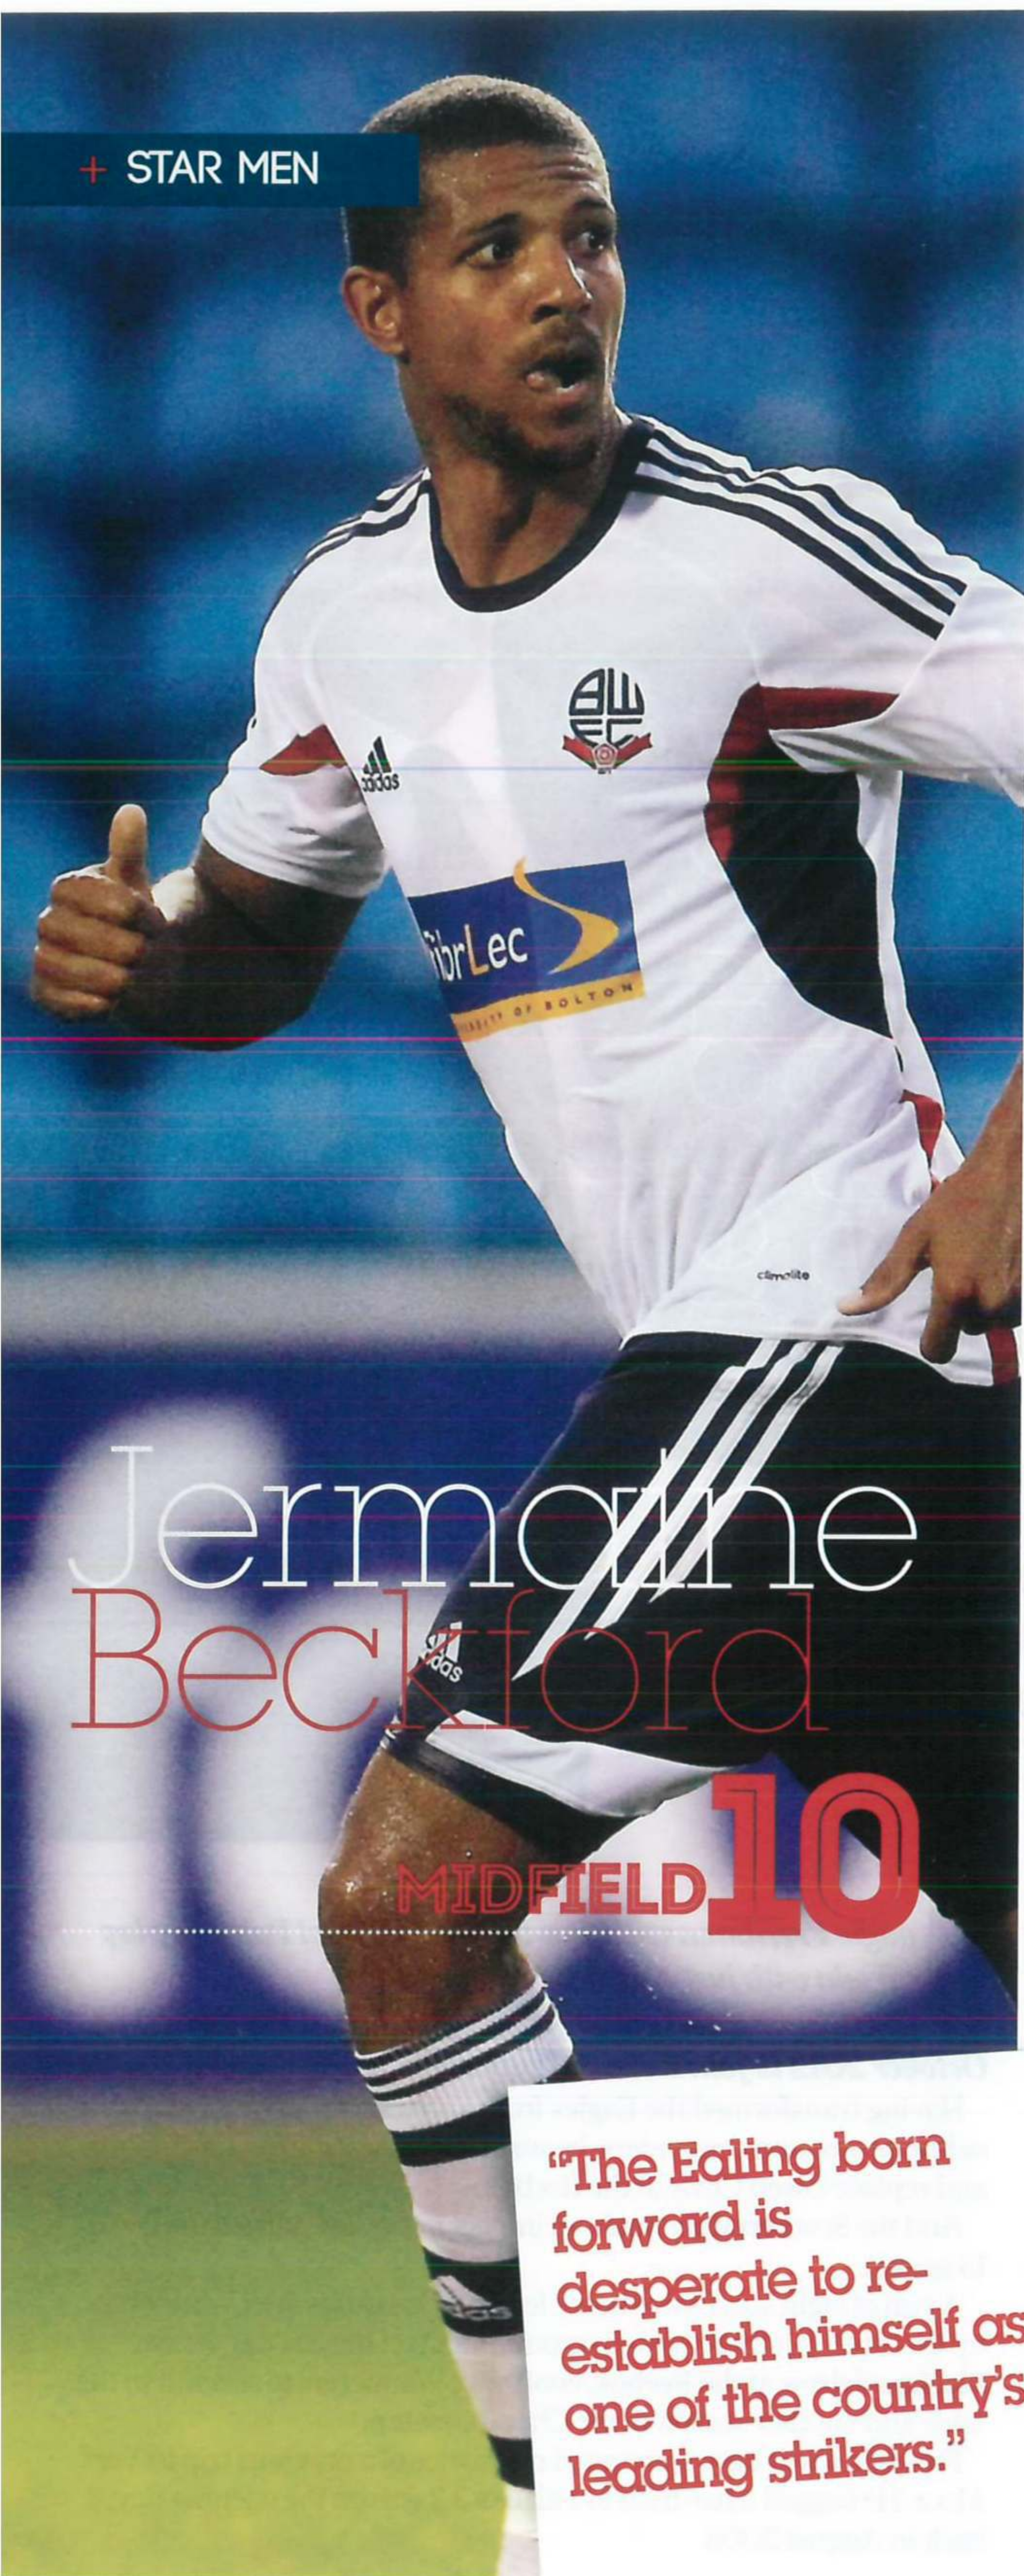

Dougie Freedman will have watched Crystal Palace's play off win with just a little bit of envy. The Glaswegian dramatically left Selhurst Park in October 2012 to join Bolton Wanderers.

Having transformed the Eagles from a struggling Championship side to promotion contenders, he was a popular choice to move north and replace Owen Coyle at the Reebok.

And the Scot certainly made an impact in the last third of the 2012-13 season.

A run of eight successive home league wins catapulted Wanderers up the table, but there was disappointment on the last day when Blackpool drew at the Reebok, confining Wanderers to seventh in the table and another season in the Championship.

Freedman will have some good memories of a previous trip to Turf Moor. He bagged a hat-trick in Palace's 3-2 win on the opening day back in August 2003.

MIDFIELD 10

"The Ealing born forward is desperate to re-establish himself as one of the country's leading strikers."

B*Beckford signed for Bolton Wanderers for an undisclosed fee earlier this summer.*

The Ealing-born forward is a full Jamaican international and desperate to re-establish himself as one of the country's leading strikers, after difficult spells at Everton and Leicester City.

Beckford was a junior at Chelsea.

After he was released, he combined part-time football with Wealdstone with a job fitting windscreens with the RAC!

A high-profile move to Leeds United kick finally started his career and the striker famously got the winner in the Yorkshire side's sensational January 2010 FA Cup win at Old Trafford.

His record in the FA Cup is incredible.

He has 16 goals in just 19 appearances in that competition.

In that 2009-10 season, Beckford's amazing tally of 31 goals in all competitions helped Leeds win promotion back to the Championship. Inevitably, a move followed to the Premier League.

Beckford will be striving to get back to the top flight with Bolton.

Adam
Bogdan 1
GOALKEEPER

H*ungarian international Bogdan is the established number one goalkeeper at Bolton.*

The Budapest-born custodian was their Player of the Season in their 2011-12 relegation campaign. In that eventful season, he saved a penalty from Wayne Rooney at Old Trafford, but was beaten by a bizarre Tim Howard 100-yard punt in the game at Goodison Park.

A full international, Adam made his debut in Hungary's 1-0 win over Luxembourg in June 2011. Bogdan will face continued competition from former North End keeper Andy Lonergan.

Alex Baptiste

DEFENDER 15

Baptiste joined the Trotters on a free transfer from Blackpool earlier this summer.

They fought off late interest from Ian Holloway's Crystal Palace to secure his signature. A versatile defender, he can either play right-back or centre back.

Nottinghamshire-born, he started his career with Mansfield Town, only leaving them when they lost their Football League status.

He was a key member of the Tangerines' side that beat Cardiff City to win the 2010 Championship play off final at Wembley.

"A tricky winger, he is dangerous in possession."

Chung-Yong Lee

MIDFIELDER 27

South Korean international Chung-Yong Lee scored twice in the 2010 World Cup. A Gary Megson signing, he has constant admirers in the Premier League, but Bolton will want to keep him to help their promotion hopes.

He scored the only goal in Bolton's 1-0 Premier League win over Burnley in January 2010.

A tricky winger, he is dangerous in possession and could be one of the stars of the Championship this season.

Willie Morgan joined Burnley when the Clarets had won the 1960 League Championship.

He left us to join the European Cup winners Manchester United in 1968.

The fee was £117,000 - a massive transfer in those days.

Probably his best Burnley memory was, ironically, against United in a sensational 6-1 win at Turf Moor on Boxing Day 1963.

Willie scored twice that day and he helped fellow Scot Andy Lochhead to the other four!

At Old Trafford he played in this illustrious forward line: Morgan, Brian Kidd, Denis Law, Bobby Charlton and George Best.

Sadly, his Manchester United days saw the Red

Devils in decline.

Unbelievably, United were relegated in 1974.

However, the Alloa-born winger played a big part in their immediate return having playing for Scotland in the 1974 World Cup finals.

After a fall out with Tommy Docherty, his Old Trafford days were numbered, and in June 1975, he was back at Turf Moor.

Unfortunately, the wide man never really settled again, and shortly after manager Jimmy Adamson left, Morgan was himself on his way, joining Bolton Wanderers on a free transfer in March 1976.

That move re-invigorated Morgan.

He was superb at Burnden Park and played a big part in the side managed by Ian Greaves that won promotion back to the top flight in 1978.

While at Bolton, Willie was able to enjoy summer football playing in the North American Soccer League (NASL).

The winger was reckoned to be the first player in England to have his own fan club, during his time at Burnley in the early 1960s.

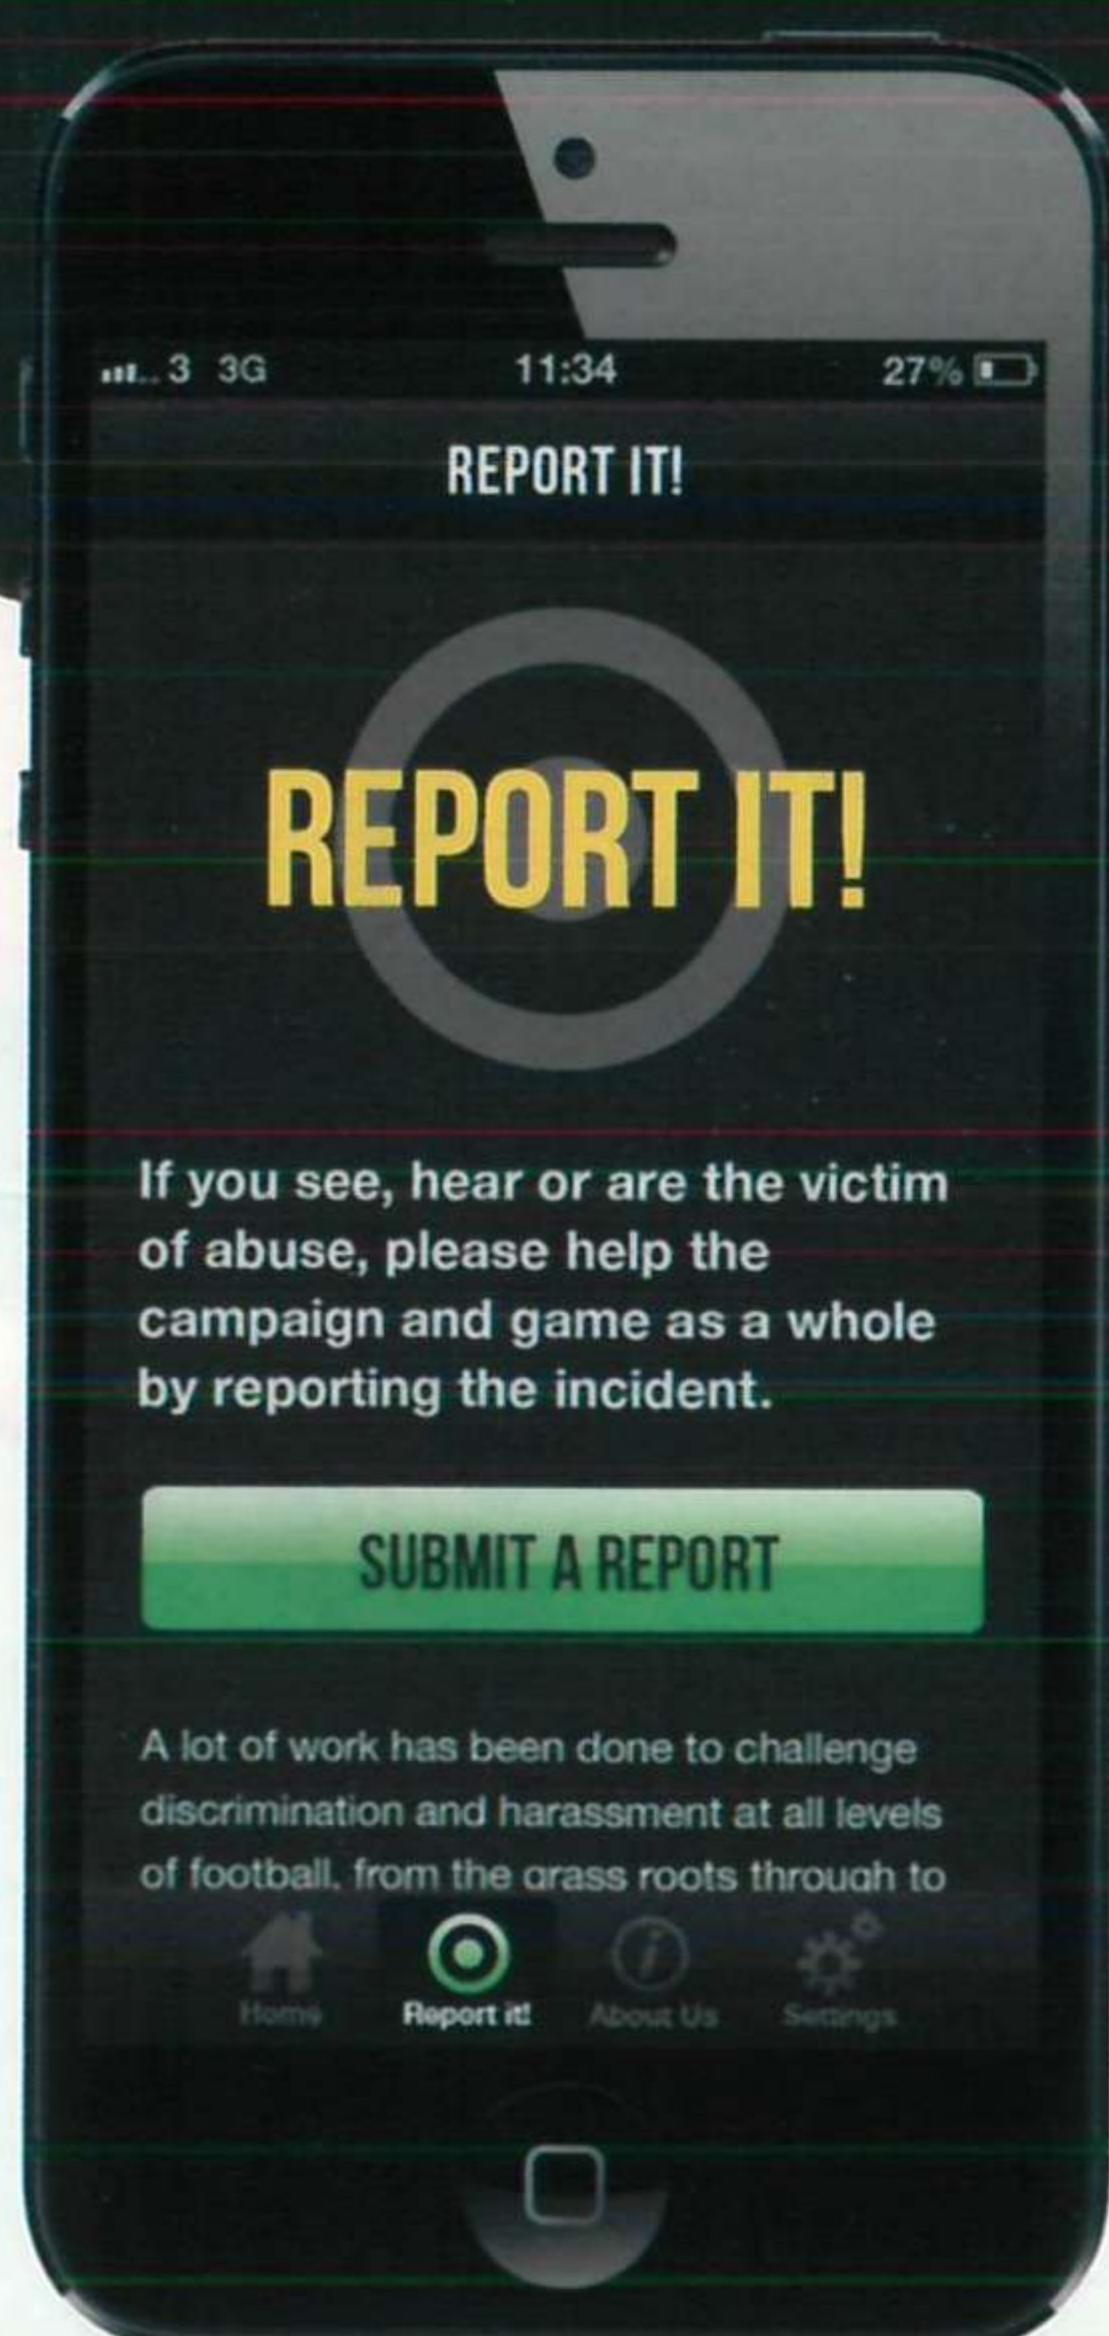

Willie made his debut for European champions Manchester United in August 1968, slotting in alongside the 'holy trinity' of Best, Law and Charlton.

DUTCH DELIGHT

Last weekend's pre-season friendly against Sparta Rotterdam was a noisy affair, helped by the 150 or so fans who crosses the Channel to make the trip to Turf Moor.

Sparta red and white army won them many fans in and around Burnley, and this week the club was delighted to receive the following e-mail from the Sparta Supporters' Club.

Dear Burnley FC!

Once again I want to tell you how great it was for all the Sparta fans at Burnley!

This picture shows it! Hopefully it will be good enough to use in your Matchday magazine, Claret & You, this weekend.

It would be great if you can send us a few copies!

All the best this weekend! C'mon Burnley!

*Kind regards,
Peter van der Zwan
Secretary, Supporters Club Sparta Rotterdam*

DAVID MAKES IT A MAGNIFICENT SEVEN.

When David Edgar played for Canada against Panama in Denver in the CONCACAF Gold Cup last month it was the 20th appearance for his country at senior level.

These have all been achieved during David's time at Burnley and the defender now joins an exclusive club by becoming only the SEVENTH Claret to represent their country on 20 or more occasions.

Team mate Michael Duff was the previous Claret to join the '20 cap club'. Michael, now the elder statesman of the Clarets squad, has so far won 24 full caps for Northern Ireland: 21 since he arrived at Turf Moor, with the first three won during his time at Cheltenham Town.

Welsh wing wizard Leighton James won a total of 54 full caps for Wales, with 23 of them coming during his Burnley days. Another 31 were won whilst with Derby County (13), QPR (1), Swansea City (16) and Sunderland (1).

Full back Alex Elder, the youngest member of Burnley's First Division Championship side of 1959-60, won 40 caps for Northern Ireland altogether. The first 34 came during his Burnley days and he won a further six following his move to Stoke City in 1967.

Midfield dynamo Brian Flynn won 34 Wales caps during two permanent spells at Turf Moor in the 1970's and 1980's, either side of his time at Leeds United, where he won another 32 caps, 66 altogether.

Striker Billy Hamilton collected 34 Northern Ireland caps whilst at Burnley, after winning his first at QPR before joining the Clarets in 1978. He moved to Oxford United in 1984 where he played for his country on four more occasions, 41 caps altogether.

The first member of this magnificent seven, and the greatest Claret of them all, was Jimmy McIlroy, now of course, Burnley FC president.

Jimmy won his 20th Northern Ireland cap back in 1957 and went on to play for his country on 55 occasions, 51 whilst at Burnley and a further four after he moved to Stoke City in 1963.

Happy Anniversary.

Burnley Football Club is delighted to have been asked to kick off the Championship season today to mark the Football League's 125th anniversary.

The game looks set to be a fitting celebration of 125 years of football and we have some special surprises in store for the day, outlined in full below.

The Clarets will today wear specially printed shirts, which will be auctioned off through the official Burnley FC website from Monday, with the highest bidders on each shirt winning.

Today, the Football League has produced a special 125th anniversary film, featuring some Clarets fans, which will be screened ahead of kick off.

The teams will then both emerge with a limited edition football (pictured) and pose for a unique team photograph with the ball ahead of kick off.

The players will also be greeted by a guard of honour made up of 10 Burnley and Bolton legends, lining up either side of the Turf Moor tunnel.

And finally, Football League Chairman Mr Greg Clarke will make a formal presentation of a special blue plaque, pictured, to the Burnley Chairmen ahead of kick off.

Thank you for sharing the Football League's 125th anniversary celebrations. Enjoy the game!

BERTIE'S A SAINT!

At halftime in the Burnley v Sparta game Bertie Bee made a special presentation to young fan Martyn Fletcher.

Martyn suffers from a physical condition that means he can only train and not play for his team Padiham Saints U8s.

However, the plucky youngster received the club's 'Trainer of the Year' from his team mates.

And in recognition of his dedication, Bertie arranged for Martyn to be mascot at the Sparta game, where he presented him with a replica kit and a treasured Bertie shirt!

CHEERS!

Burnley Football Club is delighted to announce a new supporters' bar at Turf Moor on matchdays.

The bar, situated in the Jimmy McIlroy Stand (UCFB entrance), will open three hours before kick off each game (10am this Saturday) until kick off and offer unrivalled views across the Turf Moor pitch, with ridiculously cheap beer prices. We'll even put Sky TV on for you!

Attendance is limited to the first 200 supporters.

Beer prices are as follows:

Standard Bitter and Lager £2 per pint

Premium Lager /Guinness /Cider £3

The Foundation Bar is unaffected by this new venture, but we are pleased to announce that the same discounts will now be available to Foundation members.

Why not pop in and see us this Saturday ahead of the big kick off?

DAVID
JONES SIGNS IN

Star of David

Join us in welcoming the newest member of the Turf Moor playing staff, midfielder David Jones.

The former Wigan Athletic, Derby County and Wolverhampton Wanderers midfielder, 28, signed a three-year deal at Turf Moor on Thursday, just in time to feature against Bolton today.

Clarets boss Sean Dyche said: "David is a very good footballer and someone who has good pedigree, coming from Manchester United.

"At Wigan he was almost a part of something, but here he thinks he can really do something, as do we, and mould himself into a really good footballer here at Burnley.

"There were a few clubs in for David, but he wanted to get a feel for us and geographically, he is not a million miles away, so that helped.

"He came in a couple of weeks late, but he is a very fit lad and we manage to accelerate him into the group, so we are looking forward to how he progresses here."

Jones will wear squad number 14 at Turf Moor and you can read the first in-depth interview with the Clarets midfielder in today's edition of Claret and You. Turn to page 20 for the low-down.

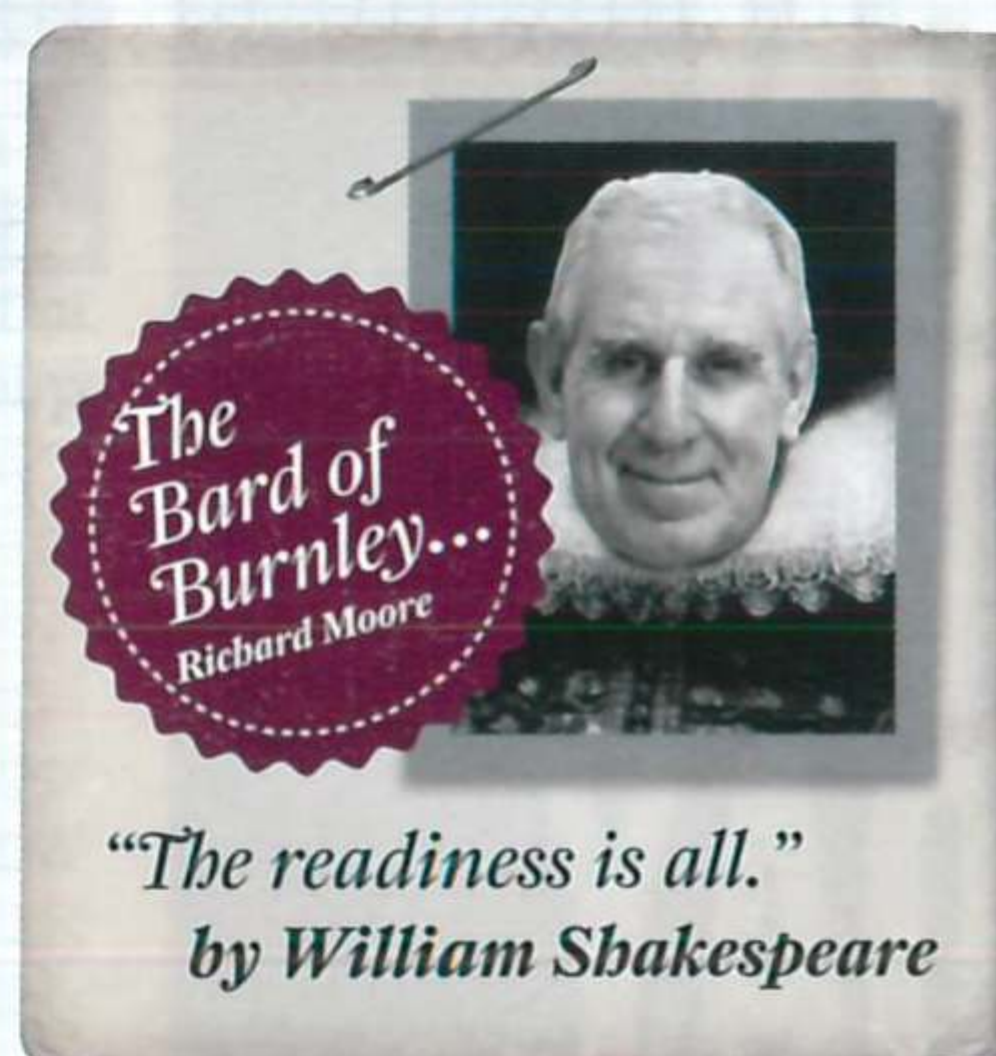

BE A VIP MASCOT

Did you know that we are now taking reservations for the VIP mascot packages for the 2013/14 season.

As part of the VIP mascot experience, your child will have the opportunity to meet the players prior to the match, have their photo taken with a player in the tunnel and lead the team out with the captain, or your child's favourite player.

Not only will you receive this great experience, but we also include a full current kit and four tickets for the game, as well as a training session with the Burnley CF coaching staff.

THE CLARETS TRUST
ONE CLUB ONE FUTURE

Here we go again!

Yes, we've reached that date when we kick off the new season.

Wind back 100 years and we're sure Burnley Football Club and the fans would have not been expecting to be winning the FA Cup at the end of the season at Crystal Palace – but we did!

I am sure we would love to see us celebrating again next May.

As I write this piece, I am not exactly sure what our line up is going to be, but I do very much believe it is up to all of us, as Clarets fans, to give our 100% backing to Sean Dyche's squad.

When we do, it can really be worth an extra man on the pitch, so let us all pull together to ensure it's a really great season.

We all know that big money, particularly from television, has changed football in many ways for teams like Burnley. This season is the last in which we receive a parachute payment, so let us hope we can use that cash to help us achieve success.

As for the Clarets Trust, we had a very good AGM back in June. Clarets legend Jim Thomson, the former player, gave us a very entertaining afternoon, much enjoyed by all those present.

Thanks Jim.

If you would like to join the Trust or need any more information on how we can help you help the club, you can do so via our website www.claretstrust.co.uk.

If Burnley is YOUR club then the Clarets Trust is YOUR Trust. Do join.

Your views are very much welcomed by the Trust.

Burnley 2 Blackburn Rovers 1

ROVERS RATTLED

AUGUST

PHIL BIRD TAKES A LOOK BACK
THROUGH THE CLARETS ARCHIVES
TO THIS DATE IN HISTORY.

Ahead of the 1977-78 season the Clarets took part in the Anglo-Scottish Cup qualifying rounds.

With the season not set to start until the 20th of August (ironically with a home fixture against today's opponents Bolton Wanderers!), manager Harry Potts saw it as ideal preparation for the Second Division campaign.

It wouldn't happen now... plans to face closest rivals Blackburn Rovers in a pre-season game just wouldn't get off the ground.

Irish international Terry Cochrane was the man of the match.

He tormented the Rovers full backs time and time again. However, despite Burnley's dominance, the Clarets only had a 1-0 lead to show for their efforts at half time.

Malcolm Smith (above left) got the goal - a delightful seventh minute chip.

It was 2-0 just after the hour mark. Trickery from Cochrane, and tenacity from Brian Flynn, set up Billy Ingham to score.

It became tense 15 minutes from time when good wing play from Noel Brotherston enabled Bobby Mitchell to pull one back.

Colne-born Kevin Hird was in the Rovers side - he would later play for the Clarets.

Ex-England defender Keith Newton also lined up for Burnley against his former club.

This was an up and down season for the Clarets. After a difficult start, the November signings of Steve Kindon and Brian Hall transformed Turf Moor allowing Burnley to climb off the bottom of the Second Division and reach mid-table security.

There were also mixed results against local rivals Blackburn. The Clarets lost their Boxing Day clash 3-2 (above), but gained revenge at Ewood Park with victory courtesy of a Cochrane strike (right).

The following season the Clarets won the Anglo Scottish Cup beating Oldham Athletic in the final.

Clarets fans will always remember the fantastic quarter-final wins over Celtic.

Terry Cochrane was a Joe Brown signing. He had originally come on trial in the previous summer but returned to Ireland before joining us from Coleraine in October 1976 for a bargain fee of £38,000.

He was already a Northern Ireland international and he made an immediate impact with his thrilling wing play.

Before coming to Turf Moor, Cochrane had already been to England. He had trials at Everton and Nottingham Forest. The Toffees boss Billy Bingham thought he was too small and too frail. Bingham was normally a shrewd judge but he got that badly wrong!

After two impressive seasons, Burnley sold Cochrane to Middlesbrough for a fee in excess of £200,000 in October 1978. Leighton James came back to Turf Moor to replace him.

Now 60, Terry still enjoys his football in the North East where he has continued to live. He combines coaching local youngsters with radio punditry work at the Riverside. He did return home briefly to manage Glenavon but Teesside is very much his home now.

After a fallout with the ebullient Malcolm Allison, Cochrane left Ayresome Park, joining Gillingham. He returned to Turf Moor in October 1983, scoring in a 3-2 Gills win against John Bond's side. After that he had a spell in Dallas before returning home to play for Millwall and Hartlepool.

Capped 26 times for Northern Ireland, he was unfortunate not to feature in their magnificent 1982 World Cup campaign in Spain. Maybe his attacking wing play didn't quite suit manager Bingham's approach.

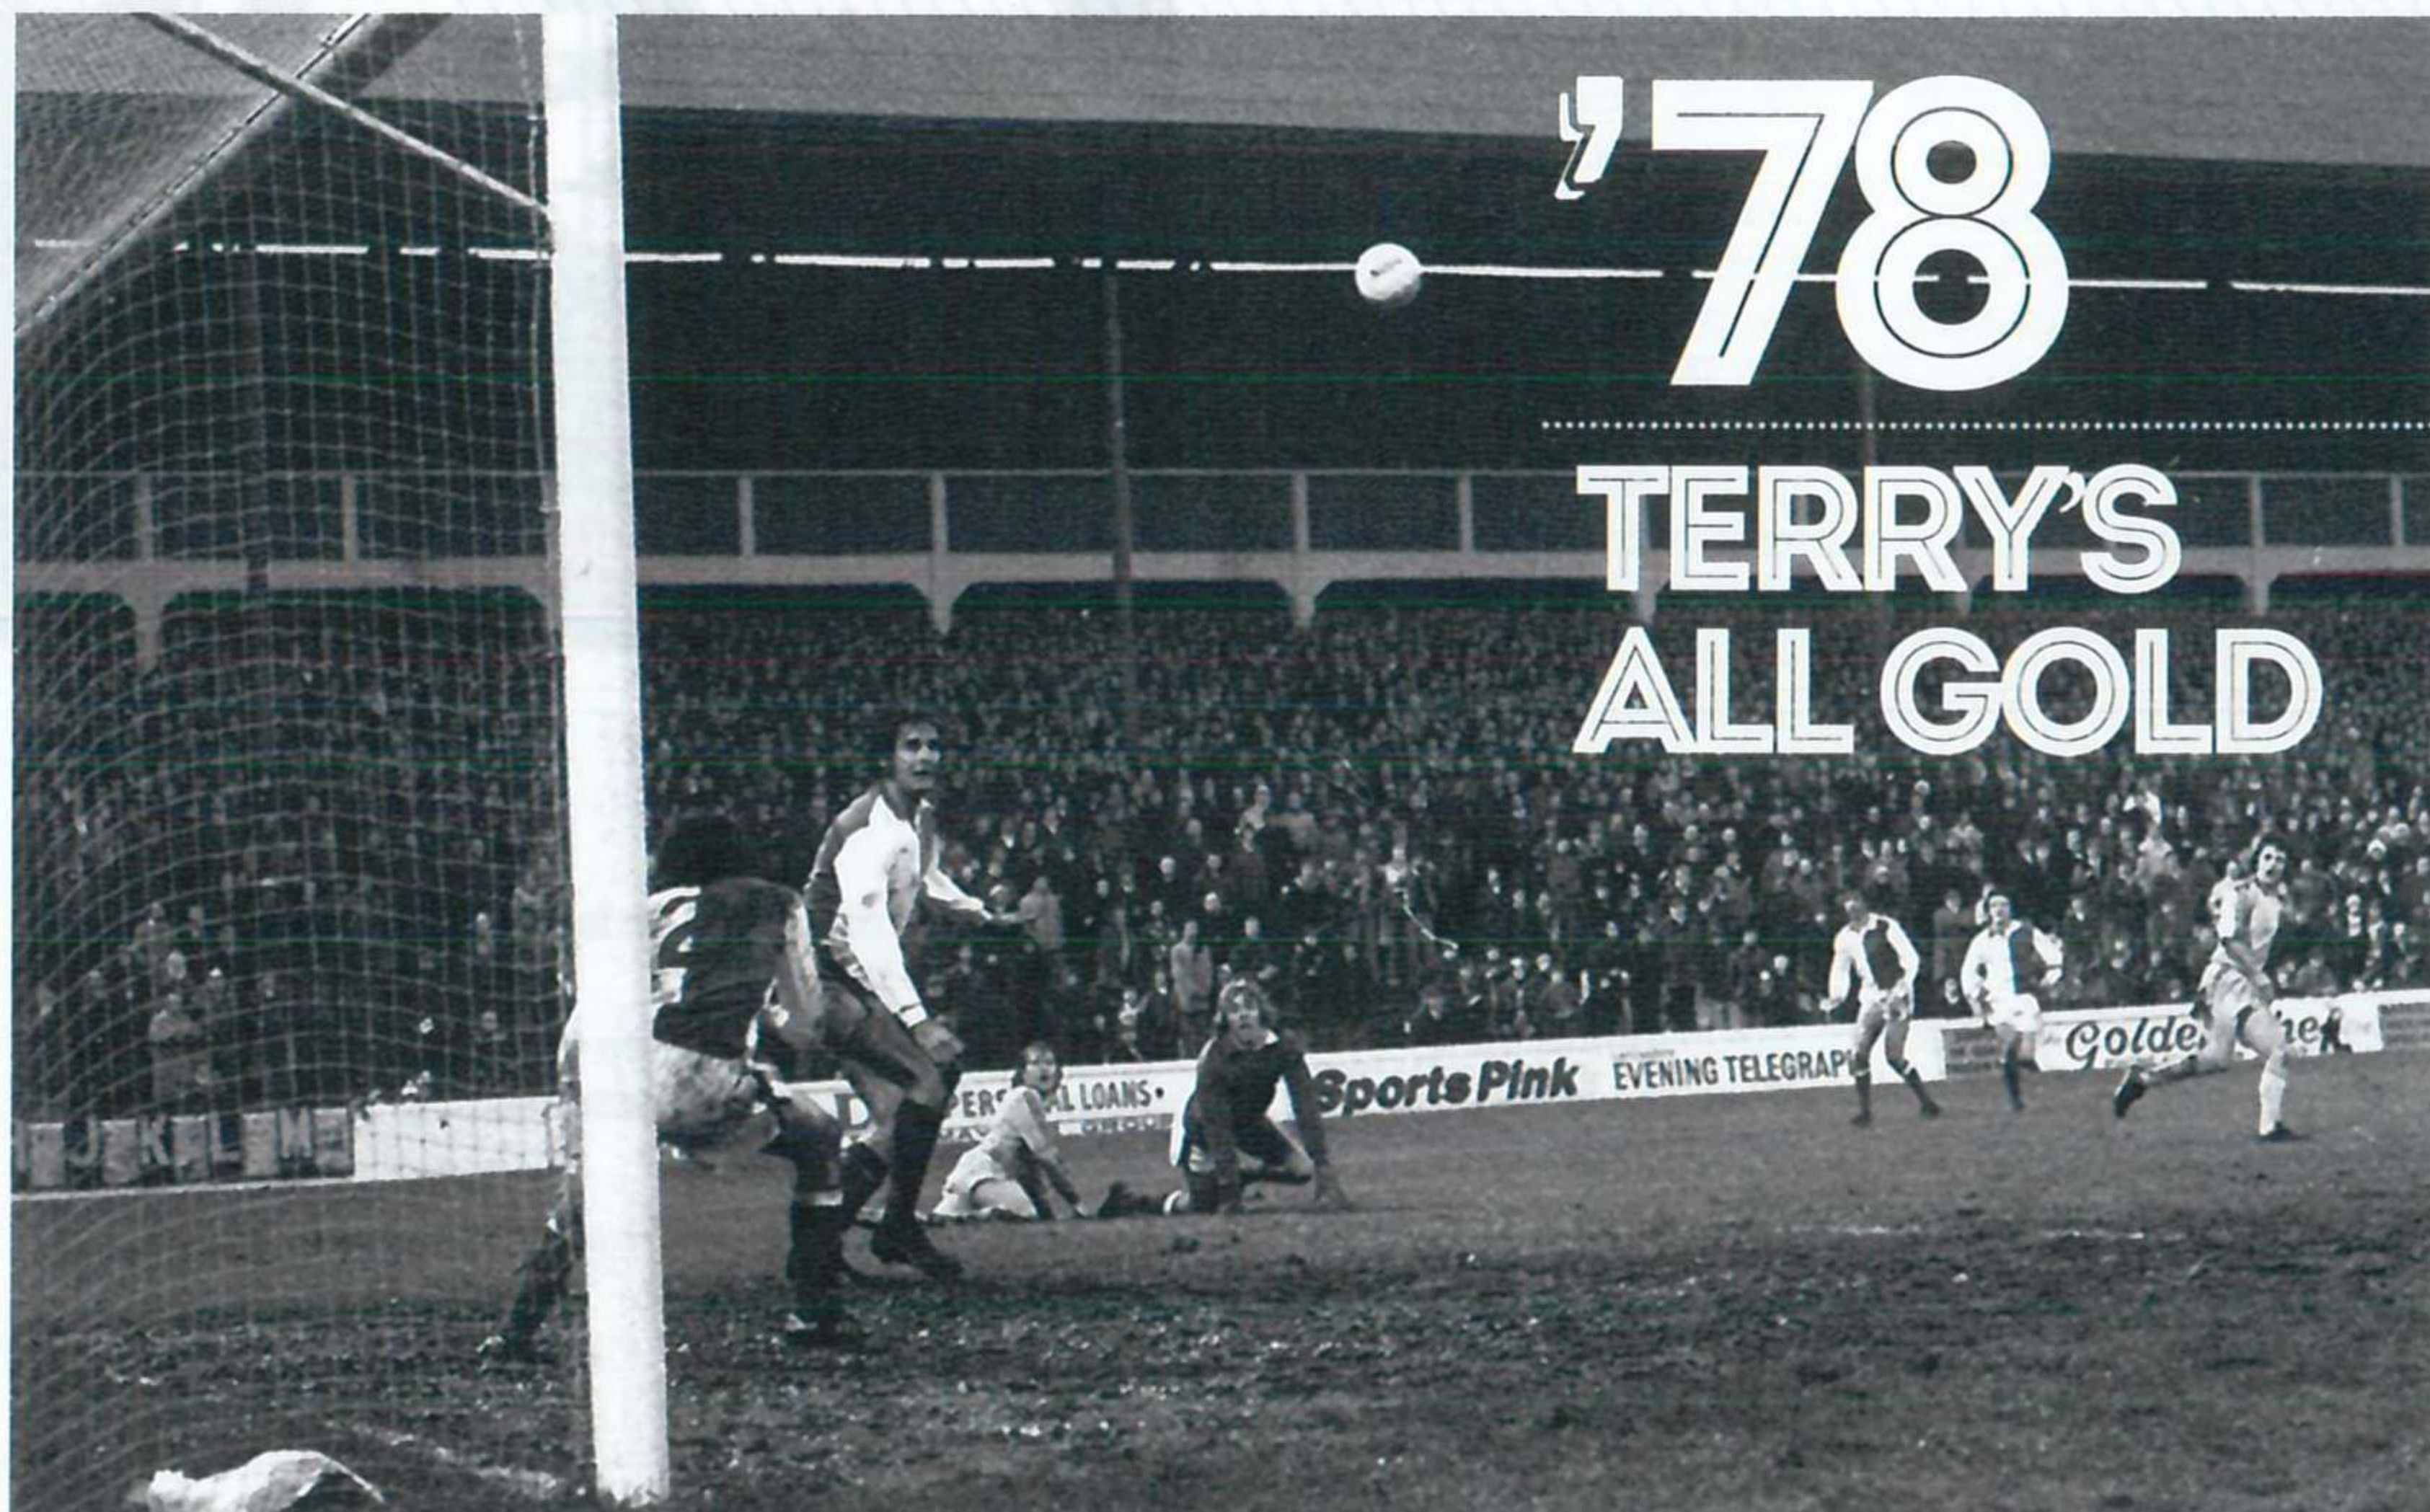

His best Burnley moment? It has to be his famous goal at Ewood Park back in March 1978.

Harry Potts' side won 1-0. A fantastic strike from the Irish winger made amends for a disappointing home derby defeat on Boxing Day 1977.

Burnley fans of a certain vintage loved the days when Cochrane and Tony Morley were patrolling the wings in Claret and Blue.

REMEMBERING JACK.

Burnley Football Club now has a Military Liaison Officer, who today welcomes some special guests.

Today we welcome Brenda Wilson and family to Turf Moor for today's fixture against Bolton.

As we mark the 125 year anniversary of the Football League we also mark a special occasion that links both Burnley and Bolton together, unfortunately through conflict.

On February 3, 2012, Corporal Jack Stanley of the Queens Royal Hussars was severely injured by an IED blast in Afghanistan.

A follower of his beloved Bolton, he also had a soft spot for Burnley.

As a child he got his first taste of football at Turf Moor.

Joining the Armed Forces with Brenda's consent at the age of 16, Jack served 10 years in the Army. With two tours of Iraq and one of Afghanistan, it was a career he much loved.

Unfortunately, Jack passed away on April 8, 2012, 10 weeks after he was injured, with his family by his side.

After Jack's untimely death, friends from local pub in Todmorden - ironically named 'The House that Jack Built' - have helped to raise over £8,000, and they are still raising money today.

Today, Brenda is keen to pay tribute to the smaller Military support groups that really made a difference throughout the 10 weeks that Jack was in hospital.

She would like to thank the SAFFA charity, which provides accommodation and food for families at Birmingham's Queen Elizabeth Hospital and link in with the Alexandra Wing Accommodation Unit.

In addition, Brenda would also like to recognise the Army Benevolent Fund, which is a key charity in supporting service personnel.

Brenda also wishes to pay tribute to Birmingham's Critical Care Unit and to the amazing work they do on a daily bases.

For Jack's family and friends today's fixture is about remembering a much loved member of the community, with two clubs that he followed dearly throughout his life.

For more information about Burnley Football Club's work with the armed forces,

please contact Paul Morgan, Military Liaison Officer

MOORE

'ORDER, ORDER'

THE FOUNDING OF AN INSTITUTION, AS RECALLED
BY RICHARD MOORE.

On the evening of May 18th, 1882 at the Bull Hotel in the centre of Burnley, a special committee meeting of a local rugby team called Burnley Rovers was called.

The Bull was a fine establishment, its façade lit by "Old Gawmless," the lamp in the centre of the street outside - some say because of its "dim" performance, others because it was standing in the middle of the road!

They could have chosen to meet in almost any of the nearly 200 inns, hotels, taverns and beer houses that had grown up in the hard-working town (despite the efforts of the Temperance Movement), but they chose The Bull because it was the town's leading hotel, known for its "magnificence" but nick-named 'The Folly' by the locals because of its ambitious 40 bedrooms.

Some of the committee members would have arrived on one of the new fangled steam trams introduced into the town the previous year, hissing and clanging along cobbled streets described as, “the most heavily bill posted in the country,” passing Thomas Hoghton’s grocer’s shop, who advertised on his paper bags that, ‘Trams pass the door every 15 minutes’. There’s entrepreneurship for you!

One or two of the committee might have been late, as there had been a bit of a dispute about the use of steam on certain streets and the new trams had to be pulled by horses for some of the way.

If a member had walked from nearby Stoneyholme he’d have passed under the shadow of a giant, three-tier gasholder, only the second to be built in England. Others, perhaps, chose to arrive by horse-drawn cab, oil lamps winking in the fading light. With the meeting called to order, the evening’s business began.

“It hasn’t been a bad season,” the Burnley Rovers’ Treasurer told them. “And were it not for our changing facilities being blown down and the access bridge to the ground being washed away, the balance sheet might have presented a different aspect.”

There was applause and the balance sheet adopted unanimously.

Two penny or three penny cigars were puffed on, purchased from Joshua Duckworth’s a couple of doors away.

Then, under the yellow light of flickering gas mantles, committee member Mr Ernest Bradshaw stood up and spoke: “I move that the rugby club, in future, play under Association Football rules.”

Without more ado (for I suspect

“125 years later, Burnley Football Club has an established place in the history of professional football”

Burnley folk had acquired a reputation for bluntness even then) the motion was passed and a celebratory round of Grimshaw’s Ale was probably ordered.

A few days later, in order to forestall anyone else having the idea, the name of the new venture was changed to Burnley Football Club.

The club would play its first match at Turf Moor (still its ground in 2013) on Saturday, February 17th, 1883.

A proud day, except that their opponents, neighboring Rawtenstall, ran off winners, beating Burnley 6-3.

The first result might have disappointed, but if there was ever any sunshine to be sought under the mill town’s sulphuric, rain-soaked skies, the club’s committee was determined to find it.

In 1888 Burnley Football Club proudly became one of the founder members of the Football League, along with Accrington, Aston Villa, Blackburn, Bolton, Derby, Everton, Notts County, Preston, Stoke City, West Bromwich Albion and Wolverhampton Wanderers.

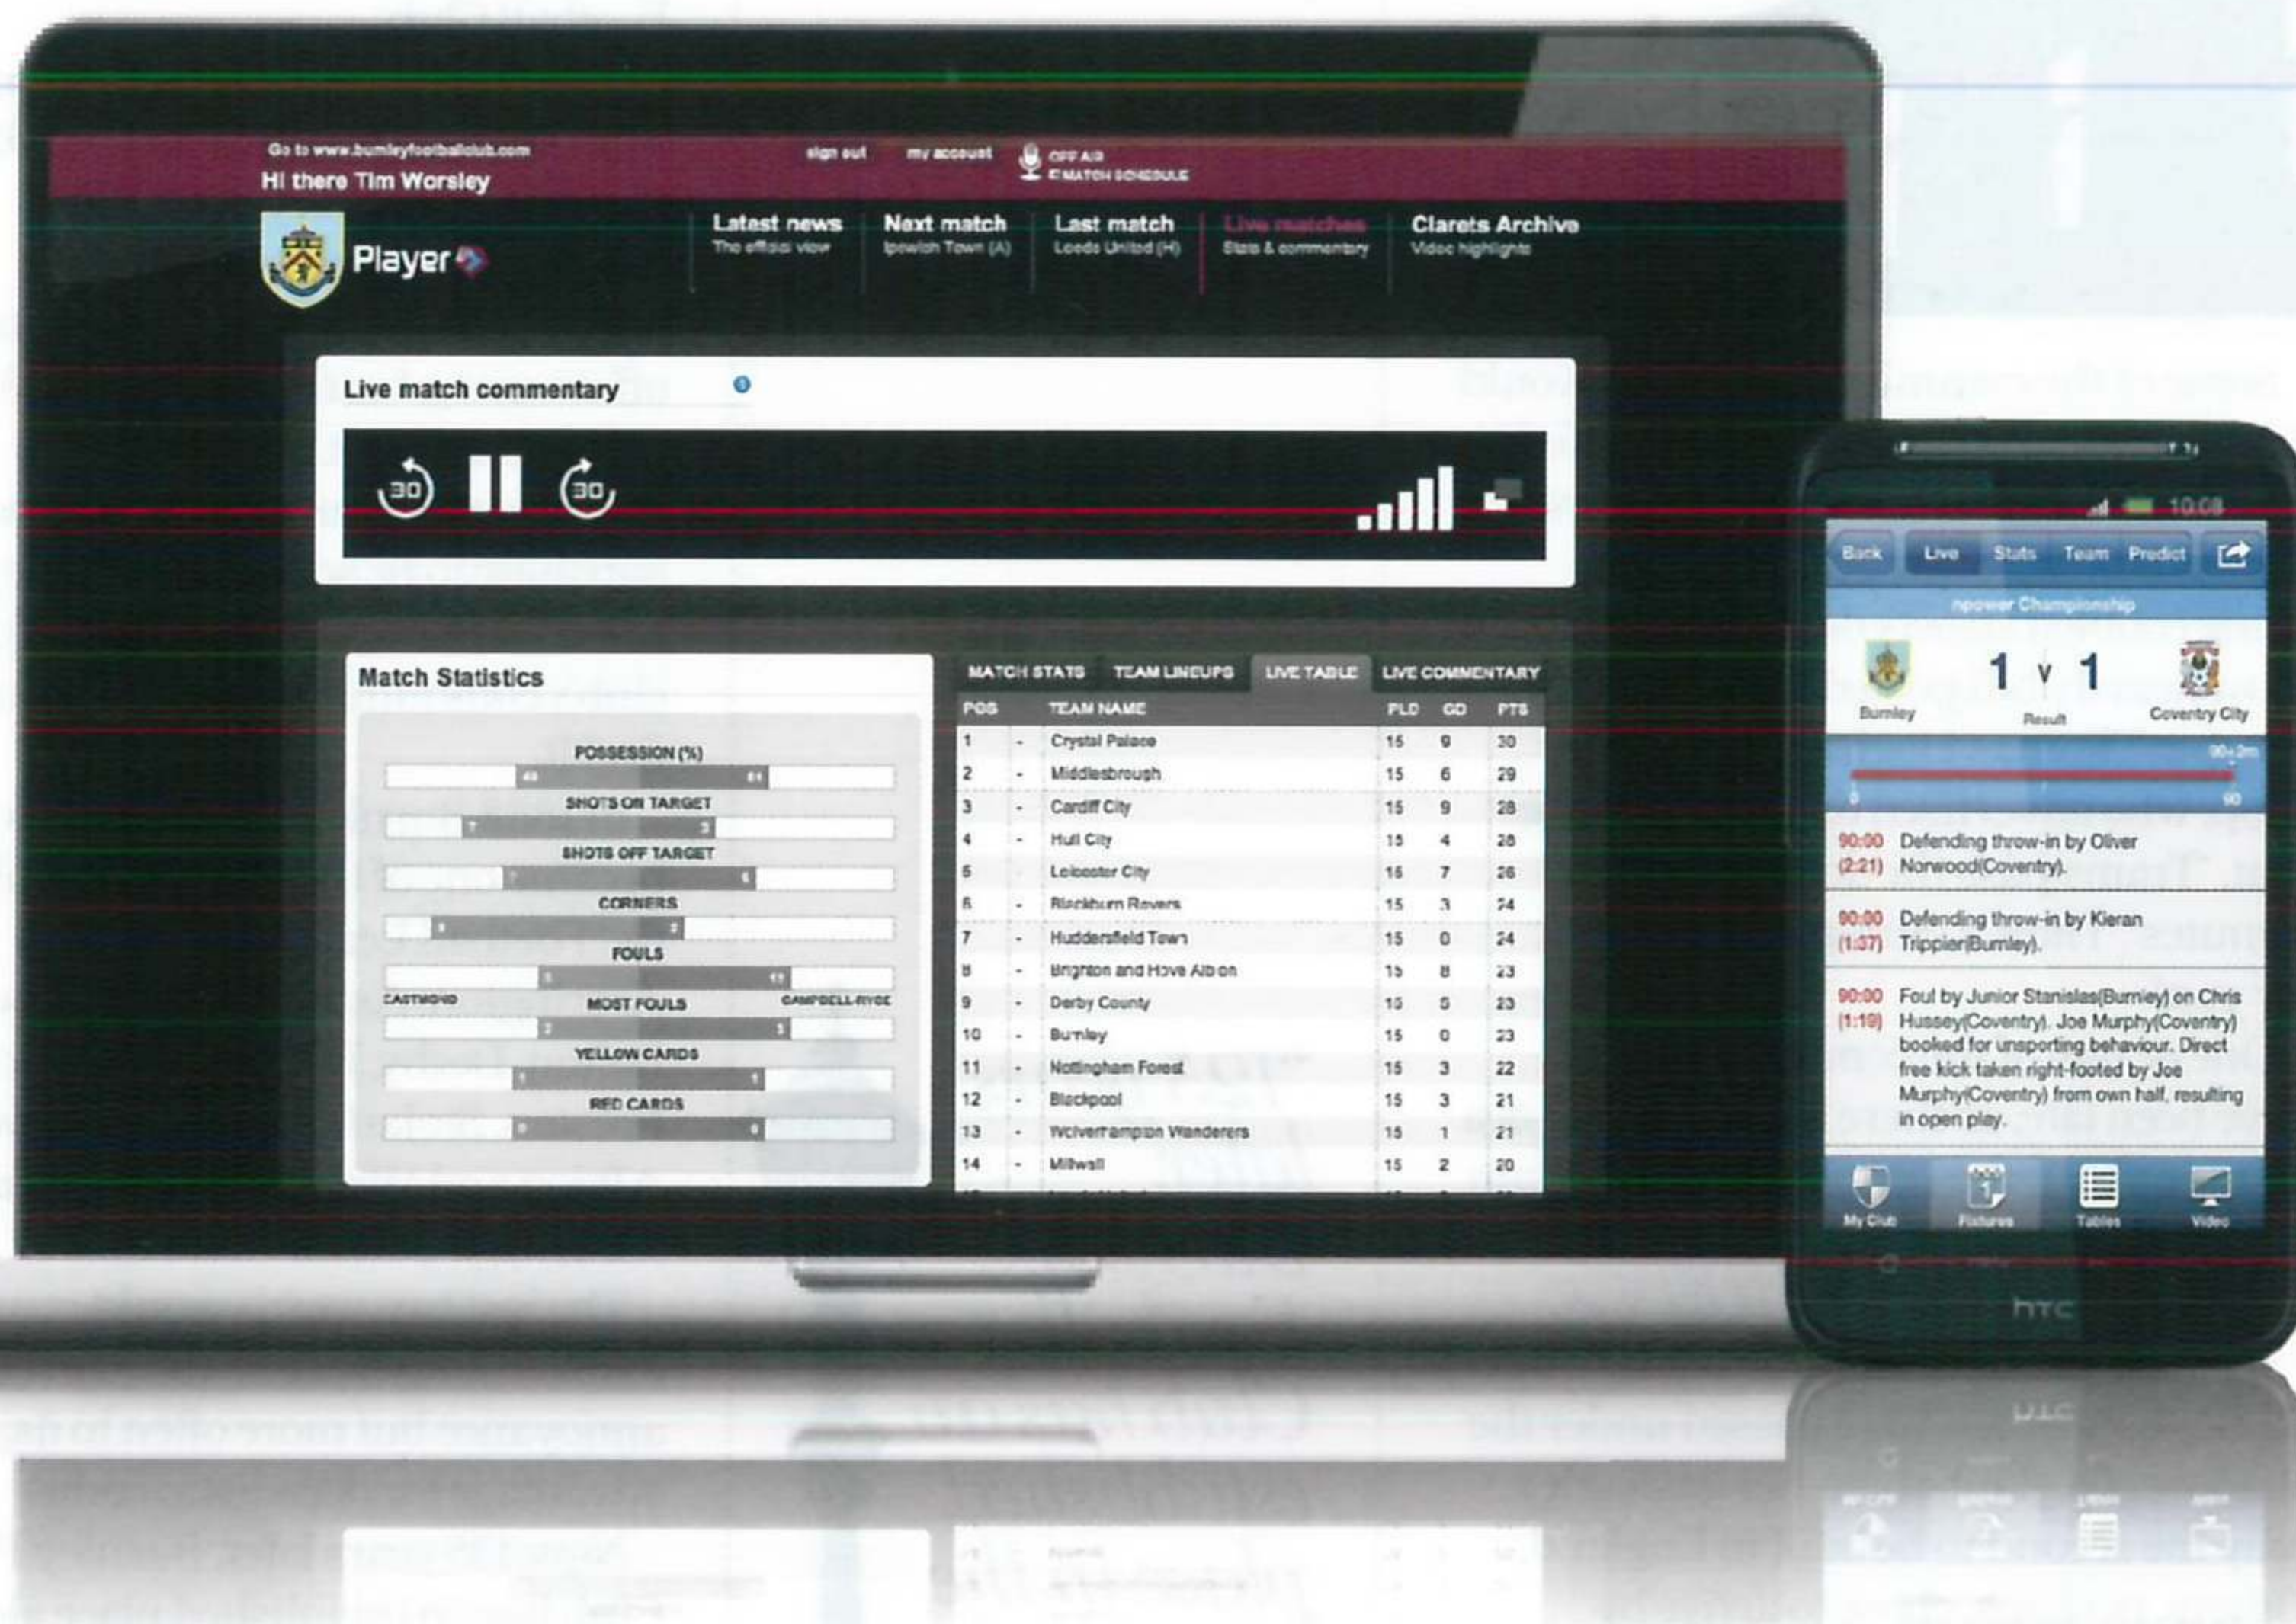

Burnley. Cotton. Football.

The last two words would come to define the town, sometimes to its annoyance but more often to its advantage for decades to come.

Now, 125 years later, Burnley Football Club has an established place alongside them in the history of professional football... and you can tell them that with pride, even in the Copacabana Stadium in Brazil!

THIS IS A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY TO DISPLAY
SOME OF THE OBJECTS THAT HAVE TOUCHED THE LIVES OF MILLIONS

The Football League and the National Football Museum are to mark the 125th anniversary of the world's original league football competition with a major new exhibition, featuring some of professional football's most iconic and historic items.

The exhibition, which will be free to all visitors, will run from September 2013 to April 2014, the same duration as The Football League's inaugural season in 1888/89. It will fill a dedicated exhibition space in the museum's stunning new Manchester home.

Manchester played a notable role in the formation of The Football League, with clubs holding a historic meeting in April 1888 at the city's Royal Hotel - just 500m from where the National Football Museum is now located. At that meeting, clubs agreed to call their new competition 'The Football League' with the first season kicking-off five months later.

The Museum's deputy director, David Pearson said: "The Football League is at the heart of the game's history and this is a wonderful opportunity to display some of the objects that have touched the lives of millions of football supporters."

Academy Director
JASON BLAKE

RECRUITMENT AND TALENT IDENTIFICATION UPDATE

It is widely understood that any youth academy will only ever be as successful as the coaching provision it provides, in addition to the recruitment and talent identification operation it employs.

A year ago, the club appointed Kieran Scott as the Head of Academy Recruitment.

Kieran, the Academy Head of Recruitment, joined us from his role as a regional scout at Southampton Football Club and is responsible for overseeing the identification, monitoring and delivery of players aged five to 21 with the potential to develop into a professional footballer.

In the first season under Kieran's management, the Academy recruited a staggering fifty two players across the U9-U21 age groups.

I met Kieran during my time at AFC Bournemouth. He was very pro-active in approaching me, asking to be given an opportunity to present his scouting methodology. The presentation was very detailed and his enthusiasm for attracting the most talented players was extremely evident. Unfortunately, the club was in difficult financial situation at that time and youth recruitment was not a priority for any investment. We were unable to offer Kieran a role and lost him to Southampton's Academy.

When the Head of Academy Recruitment position at Burnley was required, I recommended Kieran immediately. He visited Gawthorpe and met with former manager Eddie Howe and myself to discuss the plans for our recruitment operation. Kieran is dedicated to ensuring every targeted player and their family is treated with respect, empathy and honesty by all scouting staff associated with the Academy. A major decision in offering Kieran the job was his uncompromising commitment to challenge the perceived 'bigger' clubs, of which we are directly competing with in the North West. No-one can tell Kieran that getting a specific player is impossible. He and his team will relentlessly work to attract the best young talent to Turf Moor, including Australian apprentices Brandon Wilson and Callum Richardson, who were both brought in by Kieran and his contacts.

During this period, the recruitment department has also had to prepare and adapt to the increasing demands of the Elite Player Performance Plan (EPPP). At the same time there needed to be a modernisation of the previous Centre of Excellence recruitment methods, while aligning with the economic environment of the club. An essential part of this process was giving the part time and volunteer scouts more support with a detailed recruitment philosophy and allowing them greater accountability with their specific recruitment areas. It is an essential aspect of our developing recruitment strategy that all the recruitment staff are made to feel an integral part of the Academy family.

As with all departments within the Academy, we are continuing to develop our operation. Last week Kieran and I visited Chelsea's Academy at Cobham to gain a greater insight into a club dedicated to local recruitment and operating in an extremely competitive London area.

Kieran said: "It's great that we are in a position to utilise our contacts at a top academy like Chelsea. Their hospitality and treatment of Jason and I was second to none and what stood out from the outset was there willingness to share information with us, which ended with a detailed presentation, which I personally took a lot out of. "I was particularly pleased to hear we share a lot of similar methodology and put a lot of focus on our pre-academy programmes.

"I welcome visits like this as they broaden my outlook on recruitment and help continue my own professional development."

The Sky Difference

It's knowing if you can't make it to the game, the only place to watch the Sky Bet Football League live is on Sky Sports.

GROWING THE GAME.

Burnley ladies continue to go from strength to strength.

Good afternoon and welcome back to our regular feature on the happenings in our Ladies & Girls teams.

The teams have been in action over the summer in various tournaments, with victories seen by the (last season's) U10s at the Woodbank Juniors tournament (pictured, right); U13s at Bisham Juniors and U14s at the Bolton Wanderers Ladies Cup.

Partly down to our success we have managed to arrange a couple of prestigious friendlies for all age groups against Doncaster Rovers Belles, a club whose open age team play in the Women's Super League.

The away games take place tomorrow, with the home leg at Burnley on Saturday, 30th August.

Our matches in the West Lancs League don't begin until September, but all sides are now back in pre-season training at Towneley for what should be a great 2013/14 season.

Burnley Ladies have been busy over the summer recruiting new players and we now have teams from Development/U9's right the way through to Youth and Open Age.

At U14 level we have so many girls wanting to play that we have established two teams, one that will compete in the West Lancs League and the other in the North Valley & Burnley Unity Youth League.

Part of the cost of establishing the new squads has been met by our successful application for a 'Grow the Game' grant from the Football Foundation.

This award, over three years, provides funding for the training of new coaches and progression levels for existing coaches, training for child welfare officers, first aid and facility hire and everyone at Burnley FC Ladies is delighted to have received this generous donation.

Hopefully, most of you managed to see us last week at the Fun

Day, where we put on girls-only sessions in the Elite Training Centre run by our own qualified coaches.

If you didn't and are interested in finding out more for either yourself, daughter, granddaughter or perhaps just a friend, then give us a call and we'll be delighted to get you down to a training

FIXTURE

Today's match is a repeat of last season's opening fixture. The last time Burnley faced the same opponents on consecutive opening days was in 1988 and 1989 when they played Rochdale, first at home and then away, but the only other exact repeat of a first-day fixture came in 1890 and 1891 when Burnley visited Accrington on both occasions.

ALL

Bolton are one of only seven clubs the Claret's have met in all four of the League's divisions, the others being Blackpool, Cardiff, Carlisle, Grimsby, Leyton Orient and Preston.

CLARET

DEBUTS

Captain Jason Shackell, Joseph Mills and Brian Stock made their League debuts for the Claret's on the opening day of last season, when goals from Martin Paterson and Charlie Austin beat Owen Coyle's Bolton 2-0

115TH

MEETING

Today is the 115th League meeting between Burnley and Bolton. Only Preston, West Brom and Wolves have been more frequent opponents.

FIRST

VICTORIES

Burnley's first two League victories both came against Bolton in the inaugural 1888/89 season. The second of those wins came in the first League game ever played at Turf Moor.

YORK CITY v BURNLEY

Tuesday, August 6th

7.45PM KICK-OFF

BOOTHAM CRESCENT, YORK / YO30 7AQ

BY ROAD

While traveling on the A59 (west), take the first exit at the roundabout onto the A1237. At the second roundabout take the third exit onto Shipton Rd/A19.

Continue on the A19 for around 2 miles and take a left onto Bootham Crescent.

BY RAIL

The main station is York Station, situated in the centre of York.

Blast from the Past

Who could forget the famous night at Bootham Crescent back in April 1992, when Burnley descended on York for a party?

The Clarets knew victory would end a barren seven-year spell in the basement division, and while thousands of travelling fans were still trying to get into the ground, City led 1-0 at half time. Cue second half goals from John Deary and a late winner from John Francis, which proved to be the promotion winning goal.
